Dorothy Signs Statement Claiming She's Sane!

MURDER TRIAL DESIRE OF JAZZ GIRL

Again Admits Shooting Her Mother; Makes Protest Of Sanity Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Dorothy Ellingson's own signed statement declaring her belief that she is sane and expressing a desire to be tried for murder rather than insanity was read to the jury trying the sanity of the 17-year-old matricide today.

On cross-examination of Mrs. May O'Shea, her jailer, it was revealed that Dorothy had signed a statement at the behest of Dr. Joseph Catton, state alienist, declaring she was sane. Mrs. O'Shea witnessed the girl's signature, she testified.

Defense counsel demanded its production by the state and after a heated argument it was presented and read in evidence. It was a series of questions and answers.

She first related the progress of the sanity trial and Defense Counsel McAtee found himself unable to read the writing. Dr. Joseph Catton was called upon to read the document.

Favors Murder Trial

Dorothy related what had happened in connection with the halting of her murder trial and named her three attorneys. She denied she had ever refused to consult her attorneys.

"What would you rather do—stand trial on the murder charge or for insanity?" was asked.

"I would rather stand trial on the murder charge and have it over with," was the reply.

"Do you think you are sane?" was the next question.

"I certainly am," was the positive answer.

"Do you comprehend the difference between right and wrong?"

"Surely."

Knows Nature of Act

Asked if she could defend herself, Dorothy said she could if it was necessary.

"Do you understand the nature of your act?" she was asked.

"I certainly do," she replied.

"The people who are trying to make me out insane are more insane than I am," the titian-haired "jazz baby" declared to her, Mrs. O'Shea told the jury.

"I never meant it." Dorothy said regarding the killing of her

BAY CITY GREETS CREW OF ARMADA

Frisco, Oakland, Join Giving Welcome To 45,000 Men Of Fleet

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Welcome of San Francisco and Oakland to the 45,000 men of the combined Pacific and Atlantic fleets, prior to their departure April 15, for a cruise in far Pacific waters, got under full sway today.

A luncheon in honor of Admiral R. E. Coontz and his staff, a reception for officers, a luncheon for enlisted men and boxing contests marked the entertainment of the navy men in Oakland today.

At the luncheon for Admiral Coontz, Victor H. Metcalf, former secretary of the navy, presided, and Vice-Admirals Henry A. Wiley, Josiah S. McKean and S. S. Robison were special guests.

Sports Program

A mammoth luncheon, baseball games and sight-seeing trips for the fleet's men has been arranged here for tomorrow.

The Military Order of Foreign Wars will entertain Admiral Coontz at a dinner tomorrow night.

Saturday night more than 5,000 girls will entertain the enlisted men of the fleet at a dance in Exposition auditorium.

Radio Photos Of Olympics Possibility

BALTIMORE, April 7.—Radio fans will be able to see the next Olympic games as well as hear the cheering, as the result of experiments now being conducted in the development of radio movies, C. Francis Jenkins of Washington, predicted today before the American Chemical society.

Jenkins said the sending of pictures through the air will be accomplished by what is known as the "prismatic ring," a device of which he is the inventor. Its possibilities, he declared, are limitless.

Presidential inaugurations, he said, will be viewed from the family fireside, as will sporting events and other notable happenings at the time they are actually happening. American radio experimenters, he said, will develop the art of "looking in" as fast as they did the art of "listening in."

The device, according to Jenkins, is "very much like that with which our mothers used to entertain the youngsters when she laid a piece of white paper over a penny and rubbing over it with a dull pencil, made a picture of the Indian appear.

AVENUE WIDENING WORK IS RUSHED

Advancement Body Reports Deeds for Necessary Land In Making

Surveys for widening of North Glendale avenue have been completed by the city engineering department and deeds for the necessary property strips to permit the widening are now being drawn up. Mrs. Mabel Tight announced at the meeting of the Glendale Advancement association today noon at the Harriett Mae Tea room. The association will assist in securing deeds to the necessary property.

Though no definite action has as yet been taken by the Los Angeles Planning commission in regard to the extension of South Glendale avenue, possibilities of having the thoroughfare extended to the south through Atwater Park are bright, E. M. Ingledue reported at today's meeting.

A. G. Lindley of the architectural firm of Lindley & Selkirk, told the Advancement club members that the Hotel Glendale will be completed within sixty days. Dr. Jessie Russell was instructed to represent the Advancement association at Railroad commission hearings relative to a new telephone exchange in the Montrose district. In the absence of President C. W. Ingledue, S. C. Kinch, vice-president, presided.

Babe Ruth Is Stricken While Aboard Train

ASHEVILLE, April 7.—Babe Ruth was taken suddenly ill on the train en route here today with what is believed to be an attack of flu. He fainted in the railroad station and was removed to his hotel in an ambulance. He had a temperature of 104 degrees.

In addition to the supposed influenza, he also is suffering with an attack of indigestion which has been bothering him for several days.

A doctor was called into attendance as soon as Ruth was moved to the hotel and after a close examination declared that the big fellow needed a complete and absolute rest.

At the hotel Ruth was revived but was delirious for nearly an hour. Ruth's teammates would not go to the baseball park for the exhibition game until they were assured his condition was not serious.

GASOLINE TAX OF 3 CENTS PREDICTED

Effect Compromise In Road Fight And Increase In Levy Seems Certain

SACRAMENTO, April 7.—Prompt adoption of a state highway financing program for the coming two-year period, with the 3-cent gasoline tax looming as the probable source of the new revenues, was forecast today by representatives of some of the factions in the Senate as a result of the compromise effected at a meeting of the revenue and taxation committee of the upper House last night, which brought forth the long-sought plan for allocation of roads and funds.

Senator Arthur H. Breed, author of the gas tax increase bill, declared that he would seek action on his bill within the next twenty-four hours. It is thought likely that a special meeting of the revenue and taxation committee of the Senate will be held late today to pass on the act.

Briefly, last night's meeting of the state highway commission and the Senate committee brought the following results:

1—Allocation of the commission's funds for new construction during 1925, which are largely federal aid collections. Under this allocation the bloc of 13 counties was given $2,425,000 and the north $200,000. Award of the bulk of the new construction money to the south was explained by the statement that 98 per cent of northern California's share has already been contracted or allocated.

2—The basis of allocation for 1925 is 36 per cent to the south and 64 per cent to the north, if the funds already spent in the northern counties are considered.

3—Chairman Harvey M. Toy of the highway commission explained the board's refusal to allocate for 1926 at this time by stating that the fate of the gasoline tax bill is still in doubt. This, he said, explained the fact that Bay Shore highway was not included in the allocation.

4—Road construction and road funds will hereafter be budgeted two years in advance, under the joint agreement, and expenditures will be limited to the budget allocation.

Sailor Proves Hero In Apartment House Fire

OAKLAND, April 7.—Howard Firstbrook, sailor on the U. S. S. Sumner, anchored in the bay, was the hero of an incendiary fire which last night destroyed one house here and threatened a block of apartments. Some one in the crowd shouted that a child was in the blazing structure. Firstbrook dashed into the house and made a room-to-room search, in constant danger of losing his life. He collapsed as police and firemen reached him in a smoke filled hallway. He recovered after emergency treatment.

Mrs. Wilbur Christens New Aircraft Carrier

CAMDEN, N. J., April 7.—A mighty roar went up from a thousand throats this afternoon as Mrs. Curtis D. Wilbur, wife of the secretary of the navy, broke a bottle of Saratoga water against a metal side of the U. S. S. Saratoga, largest and speediest of American aircraft carriers, and shouted into the uproar:

"I christen thee Saratoga!"

A moment later the vessel glided down the ways into the waters of the Delaware river with scarcely a ripple.

POLICE CHIEF ROBBED

LOS ANGELES, April 7.—A former New York police commissioner, Harry R. Doherty, was a member of the party of six persons held up and robbed of jewelry and money totalling $20,000 late last night.

People Capable of Deciding Whom They Desire In Office

For the past two months or more the columns of The Glendale Evening News have been left open to the citizens of Glendale to present the names of candidates to be voted upon for the office of councilmen at the municipal election on April 14, which is one week from today. Of all the candidates presented in that manner, twenty-one qualified and had their nomination papers filed with the city clerk.

A brief but complete biographical sketch was published, giving all possible information to the voters as to the qualifications of the man seeking the office.

With all the above information, The Glendale Evening News leaves the case in the hands of a mass of intelligent voters to decide. The editor of The Glendale Evening News' acquaintance with the keen intellectual independence of the people does not at any time presume to take from their hands the right to select their choice for councilman. We ask no candidate to pledge himself to The Glendale Evening News.

Below are the names of the twenty-one candidates for City Council, five of whom are to be elected; the names of the six candidates for city treasurer, one of whom is to be elected; the names of the two candidates for city clerk, one of whom is to be elected.

BAN LIFTED FROM WALKER FIGHTING

N. Y. Boxing Commission Also Removes Ban On Johnny Dundee

NEW YORK, April 7.—The New York State Athletic commission today lifted the suspensions of Mickey Walker, welterweight champion, and Johnny Dundee, retired featherweight champion. The ban had made them ineligible to box in this state.

Walker's suspension was lifted when he appeared in person before the commission and announced his willingness to accept the challenge of Dave Shade. Shade had filed his charge with the body, but when Walker refused to recognize it he was placed on the ineligible list.

Dundee Reinstated

Dundee had been spspended at the request of the French Boxing Federation, which charged that he had failed to live up to his contract to box Fred Bretonnel in Paris. Dundee applied for reinstatement last week.

Leo Flynn, manager of Shade, said he was ready to sign to meet Walker at any date agreeable to the champion, but that he would not stand in the way of the proposed Walker-Harry Greb match.

Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion, also was reinstated by the commission, acting on his application.

McTigue's reinstatement, however, was made conditional on his promise to accept within sixty days a challenge from a contender to be named by the commission.

Bank Clerk Questioned In Drug Store Deaths

TORONTO, April 7.—Held after Clayton McWilliams and John McGie, both of Bellevue, were shot and killed in the drug store of William Latimer, Arthur Moon, 35, a bank clerk, refused today to discuss the shootings. The motive is not known. McWilliams was a clerk in the drug store. McGie was a friend of Moon and has been separated from his wife, police learned.

HORSESHOE CLUB SELECTS TICKET

Five Candidates Endorsed By Members At Meeting Held This Afternoon

Five candidates for City Council were endorsed by the members of the Horseshoe club at a meeting held today at the grounds at Broadway and Central avenue. The candidates endorsed are:

John S. Knox.
George Seal.
Charles F. Stuart.
E. C. Williamson
E. F. Heisser.

Members of the investigating committee, named by President George Paine a week ago, and which reported at the meeting today are: President Paine, Wilbur S. Bear, William L. Yard, Dr. William E. McGill, W. S. Holman and Walter B. Berger. Approximately 250 persons were present for the meeting. John Knox appeared at the meeting and made a short address.

Young Farmer To Hang For Killing Sweetheart

LONDON, April 7. — Norman Thorne, young farmer of Clowborough, must hang for the murder of his sweetheart, Elsie Cameron, a London stenographer. His appeal from the death sentence was dismissed today by the criminal court of appeals. The stoic calm he maintained during his trial deserted Thorne when the higher court removed his chance of escaping the gallows. He collapsed after he was taken from the courtroom and wept.

'Baby Market' Case Is Considered By Judge

LOS ANGELES, April 7.—Justice of the Peace W. S. Baird today began to study briefs filed by both the prosecution and defense in the case of Mrs. Hazel Sims, alleged "baby market" proprietor, to determine if the defendant shall be able to stand trial in superior court on a felony charge. Justice Baird will render a decision Thursday.

NEW MARK SET IN BID FOR SECURITY

Bring Par, Accrued Interest, $15,373 For Block Of $300,000 Sold Today

Glendale sewer bonds totaling $300,000 were sold today to R. H. Molten & Co., Los Angeles, for par, accrued interest and a premium of $15,373.38, one of the largest prices ever obtained for Glendale city bonds.

There were seven bidders for the block, including Dean-Witter Co., Bank of Italy, Anglo-London-Paris Co., California Surety Co., Citizens' National bank and William Staats Co. The bonds will be prepared and signed for delivery within a week, when the city will receive the cash for principal, premium and interest.

The money is used in construction of the outfall sewer on which 11,960 feet had been completed up to April 1, according to figures in the hands of City Manager V. B. Stone. The work was started November 18. When completed 48,643.27 feet of outfall sewer will have been constructed.

Protesting the proposed plan to construct no main thoroughfares in Glendale of less tensile strength than obtained by the use of five-inch macadam paving the Davis-Glend le Co. submitted a communication to the City Council today declaring that such action would be unfair to property owners.

Divided On Paving

"I don't think their argument is worth anything," declared Councilman S. S. Gilhuly. "It is not fair to the city as a whole to build a street and immediately tack up signs forbidding truck drivers and heavy traffic."

The Davis-Glendale Co. is the Body Of South China Dictator Is Preserved

PEKING, April 7.—The body of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, former South China dictator, was permanently preserved in oil today. The body of the Chinese leader was placed in a glass coffin filled with mineral oil. Purchase of fifteen gallons of oil to preserve the body was made.

Air Race for North Pole Is Being Planned

LONDON, April 7.—An air race for the North pole was in the making today by Captain Raold Amundsen and Grettir Algarssen. It will be run in May, if both explorers continue their present plans. Algarssen will leave Liverpool May 1 aboard the ship Iceland, and hopes to reach the edge of the Polar ice within two weeks.

There he will inflate the special airship that the ship will carry, and, with three companions, hopes to make the flight to the pole in twelve hours. His plan at the pole is to descend from the airship by rope ladders and, after making observations, to continue his flight to Nome, Alaska.

Amundsen's expedition is en route to Spitzenbergen, hoping to take off in two airplanes before the end of May. Algarssen has speeded up his preparations, hoping to reach the pole before Amundsen.

SHEPHERD'S CASE GIVEN STRENGTH

Former City Employe Denies He Supplied Typhoid Germs To Faiman

CHICAGO, April 7.—One link in the state's chain of evidence in support of the story of Dr. Charles Faiman, which brought the murder indictment against him and William D. Shepherd for the death of William Nelson McClintock, was shattered here today by Winfield S. Hoerger, former employe of the city health department. Hoerger was brought into the state's attorney's office and there denied emphatically that he had supplied Faiman with the typhoid germs given Shepherd with which to inoculate young McClintock.

Defunct Broker Given One Year In Prison

NEW YORK, April 7.—John F. Macmasters, a member of the brokerage firm of R. H. Macmasters & Co., which failed for $1,500,000 about two years ago, was sentenced today to a term of not more than one year in Sing Sing for bucketing.

WATER BILL REPORTED OUT OF COMMITTEE

SACRAMENTO, April 7.—The Senate finance committee today reported Senator John Creighton's water conservation survey bill with recommendation "do pass," after trimming the half-million-dollar appropriation to $200,000 for the biennium. This sum will permit the state engineer's office to complete its investigation, it is said. The same committee tabled Senator Charles H. V. Lewis' bill for a Southern California penitentiary.

PRESIDENT TO GET INSIDE DATA FROM DEBTORS

Coolidge To Send Envoy Abroad For Purpose Of First Hand Survey

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—President Coolidge has decided to send an American envoy abroad for a first-hand survey and report on the ability of France and other European war debtors to undertake immediate funding negotiations on the $7,000,000,000 they owe the United States treasury.

This was the interpretation placed today in informed quarters on the trip of Gerrard B. Winston, secretary of the foreign debt-funding commission to London and Paris. His departure follows a number of conferences engaged in here during the last few weeks, attended by Secretaries Mellon, Kellogg and Hoover, at which the whole foreign debt situation has been discussed in detail.

Winston will meet Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in New York today or tomorrow for final instructions before sailing on Friday.

Unusual reticence has been observed in administration circles concerning Winston's mission, but it is rather guardedly admitted that while in Paris and London—Paris particularly—he will see some influential bankers and government officials.

10 Per Cent Contribution Plan Now Before Deputies

By FRANK MASON
For International News Service.

PARIS, April 7.—The Chamber of Deputies today referred to the chamber's committee on finance the law proposed by Finance Minister De Monsie to extricate France from its perilous financial situation.

The law, in brief, provides for a voluntary or patriotic contribution on the part of French subjects and corporation of 10 per cent of their wealth.

While the De Monsie proposal contemplates a voluntary contribution of 10 per cent of all wealth, it likewise provides for a forced levy if the voluntary contribution is not forthcoming.

On this contribution the government would pay a perpetual tax of approximately 3 per cent.

Cabinet Approves

The De Monsie plan was submitted to the Chamber of Deputies this morning after having been discussed and approved by the cabinet at two conferences yesterday. The De Monsie law is somewhat of a compromise on the proposal of Premier Herriot and the Socialists generally that a flat levy of 10 per cent, without interest, be made on all accumulated wealth.

The chamber's finance committee will carefully examine the De Monsie law and send it back to the chamber Wednesday at which time it will be subject to debate. The reception the De Monsie plan will receive in the chamber is problematical. It is expected to be the turning point in the Socialistic Herriot government. De Monsie, himself, according to authoritative newspapers, will resign if the proposal is rejected by the chamber.

There is a tendency on the part of the French financial experts to question whether the 10 per cent contribution will be sufficient to meet the nation's financial needs. De Monsie believes it will do more than that, for his law provides that what is not used by the government to make its financial structure secure will go to reduce France's internal debt.

"My plan puts a premium on good citizenship," De Monsie told the press after the cabinet meeting.

EXTEND CLOSING DATE OF CONTEST

Eisteddfod Entries Will Re Received Up To Week From Saturday

The closing date for entries in the Glendale District Eisteddfod contests in music, art and drama was extended from April 11 to April 18, following a meeting of the executive board and heads of committees in Glendale yesterday. The action was taken because of the present school vacation, which has delayed entry through the absence of many teachers, students and their families.

Work for the series of contests to be held here the week of April 26 to May 2 is being forwarded rapidly, it was reported in the meeting. Indications are that Glendale district is one of the leaders among the nine in Southern California, the movement being more extended and elaborate here than in most cities.

Service Club Night

Some of the outstanding events planned for contest week have been given places on the tentative program, among these being the competition of service clubs in singing club songs, which will occur in the Broadway High school on Thursday night, April 30. Local service clubs have already arranged to join and many from other cities of the district are contemplating it.

The drama and piano competitions are expected to occur on Saturday, May 2, in the afternoon and night, respectively. The choral music will be combined with a special program given by the Glendale Symphony Orchestra in the Broadway High school on Tuesday, April 28, and the choirs will sing on Sunday afternoon, May 3. Other events will be announced soon, R. Ernest Tucker, superintendent of recreation, who is in charge of the program, reported.

Season tickets, giving entry to all contests in the afternoon or night, may be secured from Mr. Tucker, 150 South Brand boulevard, and from members of the committee. Committee members attending the meeting yesterday were Miss Annie McIntyre, Mrs. Max Green, Ralph Browne, John C. Cotton, Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, H. M. Butts, J. A. Myers, Mrs. Alex Mitchell, A. L. Baird, Mrs. M. O. Sparrow, Mrs. Malvern Barker and Mr. Tucker.

Boost In Laundry Fee Unlikely, Report Says

Proposed changes in the Glendale license ordinance that would provide for a higher fee on outside laundries operating within the city, was not supported by the civic committee of the Chamber of Commerce when that body met yesterday afternoon. The committee will report to the directors of the chamber that it is their belief the present license is fair to all concerned and that a discriminatory tax against outside laundries would be unwise. R. E. Johnston, chairman, presided at the meeting.

The proposed change in the ordinance was first advocated before the chamber directors by Glendale laundry owners. Outside concerns strongly opposed the change, however, and the matter was referred to the civics committee before action was taken with the City Council.

PITIFUL LOOK AS CANINES BEG HOMES

Dogs At Humane Shelter Are Without Friends; Seek Companionship, Care

By A DOG LOVER
Written for The Evening News

Every few days I visit the Humane shelter at the foot of Ivy street, near San Fernando road and each time I come away with an aching heart and a great wonder in my soul as to why "man's best friend, the dog" should have, so often, so rotten a deal from his master.

I have grown to know the little guests, at the Humane society, some of whom have been waiting long days hoping for someone to give them a home. They climb up on the bars of their cages and lick my hands through the wire mesh. As I go to the next cage the dog I have left whimpers and begs for a little more attention.

Let me tell you of some of the individual dogs and see if your heart will not respond.

Black Shepherd

A beautiful black Shepherd is breaking his heart for a home. He is growing despondent now. He was placed in one home but he cried and whimpered and barked the first night and the people brought him back to the shelter. Wouldn't a child whimper and cry if he were placed among unknown and indifferent people? Can't we give a dog a chance? Without a chance there is only one alternative—extermination—for the Humane society is pitifully crippled for funds and the newcomers crowd out the old.

Who owns the wire-haired dog—apparently a cross between a collie and an airedale? Whoever you are, your dog is breaking his heart. He has gnawed at the bars of his cage until his mouth has bled, trying to get back to you. The little white star on his black muzzle has been red because he loves you, apparently, better than you do him. Anyway, he wants someone to love him. Who will?

Last week a family packed up their worldly belongings and left Glendale. The only thing they omitted to take was a beautiful half-grown dog who looks like a young St. Bernard. Couldn't you love him?

Mourns to Death

An airedale with the largest, most pleading eyes I have ever seen wants a home desperately. He is blessed with a wonderful disposition and anyone could learn to love him. A rollicking half-grown young airedale is also ready to go out. Two little female pups are waiting—but I am afraid they are doomed to "dog heaven" as calls for females are very few and far between.

Last week a beautiful police dog mourned himself to death because his owners could not be found. Forcible feedings were of no avail and he died of starvation

CONSTRUCTION WORK IN ATWATER FLOODED

Heavy Rains Over Week-End Cause Delay In Bridge and Sewer Jobs; Autos Stalled Along Tyburn Street

Flood water caused by the rainstorm over Saturday and Sunday played havoc with two large construction jobs now under way in the Atwater district. Cement forms and other false work on the Los Feliz bridge were damaged by severe washouts suffered during the storm. In order to drain the area beneath the new bridge so that work may be continued, it has been necessary to divert the course of the river and do considerable pumping.

The Glendale outfall sewer line, under construction in the district, was damaged to some extent by the storm. Work was hampered until washouts just north of Los Feliz road in the Walnut park area were repaired and drainage was completed. Along Tyburn street, where digging has been started for sewer laterals to serve the Atwater Park district, the street has been rendered impassable by the great spread of mud caused by the rain. Autos were barred from this thoroughfare between Hollydale and Casitas avenues, after several cars became stalled in the thick mud coat.

Sewer Work Progresses

Work on Atwater Park sewer lines which will connect up with the Glendale outfall when completed, giving Atwater a complete sewage disposal system, is getting under way rapidly. Ditches for the sewer pipes are now being dug on Tyburn street and Los Feliz boulevard. Along the latter thoroughfare connections are being made so that laterals can be installed on all north and south streets running between Los Feliz and Glendale boulevard.

Similar laterals will be installed on all cross streets south of Glendale boulevard connecting with the Tyburn street line. Work will be rushed to completion so that it will be ready to connect with the Glendale outfall as soon as that trunk line is ready for use.

New Park Entrance

A new entrance into Griffith park will be made available to motorists over a road entering from Vermont avenue near the present Vermont avenue picnic grounds. The road will lead through the picnic grounds, which are now being cleaned up and refurnished with rustic tables and cooking facilities. The work is being done under the supervision of the Los Angeles park department.

Struck By Streetcar

Frank W. Goode, elderly resident of Atwater Park, residing at 3112 Lacleed street, is at his home recovering from painful injuries and a severe shock sustained when he was struck by a downtown streetcar in Los Angeles. Mr. Goode was thrown to the pavement and his arm badly hurt. Shock caused by the accident may keep him confined for several weeks, it was stated.

Light Standard Battle

Minus the approbation and support of the Atwater Community Improvement association, representatives of the Marbelite Standard Co. are continuing their canvass of streets of Atwater Park lying between Los Feliz and Glendale boulevards. Extra salesmen of this company have been assigned to the Atwater Park section to further the cause of Marbelite standards for streets in Atwater Park that are not already lighted.

Many of the streets have already petitioned the City Council for metal standards and in these cases cement standard salesmen are endeavoring to secure signatures for a second petition, asking that the metal light request be ignored. Officers of the improvement association stated today they have washed their hands of all responsibility in the light controversy.

Practice Degree Work

Officers of Atwater Masonic lodge met last night at 3218 Glendale boulevard for a special conference and to practice degree work. The next regular meeting of the lodge will take place at the Knights of Pythias building on South Brand boulevard, Glendale, Friday night of this week, Fred H. Chapman, master, announced.

Attendance Records Fall

A check of the roll of the Neighborhood Christian church Sunday school discloses that all attendance records were broken last Sunday when 140 were present in the different classes, Rev. James W. Utter announced. Members of the class taught by Clayton S. Decker will be guests of Mr. Decker at a steak dinner served in Walnut Grove next week. Mr. Decker's class held a social night Friday as the guests of Miss Elizabeth Utter at her home, 3800 Valleybrink road.

New Belfry Is Needed

Any carpenter living in the Atwater district wishing to assist in erecting a belfry at the Neighborhood church should communicate with Rev. Utter. A new bell for the church, weighing approximately 400 pounds, has been bought and with completion of a suitable belfry will be put into use at the church.

Personals From District

Vera Saloney has purchased the residence at 3127 Larga avenue, formerly owned by H. V. Briggs. Miss Saloney moved to her new home on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hulick of Pittsburgh, Pa., are en route to Atwater Park, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton S. Decker at their home at 3268 Garden avenue. Mrs. Hulick is a niece of Mrs. Decker.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clune have bought the home of I. M. Wells at 3819 Glenfeliz boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Farrell, formerly of Seattle, have leased a home on Revere avenue near Dover street and will make their residence in the Atwater district

Grand View Reserves Honored At Pasadena

Grand View Girl Reserves received recognition Saturday at the spring rally of Presbyterian Girls' clubs at the First Presbyterian church, Pasadena, as one of two clubs having 100 per cent membership present; the only club having every member participating in exhibits, and was awarded six prizes.

Gladys Goudy won first prize in sewing; Henrietta Moody and Ruth Rochin, second prizes in cooking and art; Dorothy Ruckman and Ruth Rochin, third prizes in arts and crafts and monogram work. Mrs. Christine Gregg, a missionary from South Africa, spoke, and Miss Scott, executive, told of the girls' camp at Santa Monica.

Church Plans To Give Pageant Next Month

Plans are under way for the presentation May 1 and 2 in the lower auditorium at First Congregational church, of a pageant, "The Wayside Piper," proceeds to go to the building fund of the church. The pageant is being given by the social service department of the church, Miss Helen Ohman, chairman. Directing the pageant are Miss Ohman, costuming and lighting; Mrs. W. Q. Widdows, music; Mrs. M. E. Canfield, drama.

CIVIL WAR IS REHEARSED IN LETTER

Note Written 63 Years Ago Coveted Possession Of Glendale Woman

Memories of the period before the battle of Pittsburgh Landing and Shiloh which took place April 6 and 7, 1862 are recalled in a letter written by Mrs. Crafts J. Wright of Cincinnati, Ohio, to her daughter, Mrs. Martha Wright Morris on March 25, 1862. Mrs. M. M. Gale of 122 North Cedar street, grand-daughter of Mrs. Wright has the letter in her possession and it is now sixty-three years old.

Mrs. Gale and Mrs. C. E. Stanley of 108 North Everett street, are daughters of Mrs. Martha Wright Morris to whom the letter was written. The late Mrs. Morris was a well-known Glendale woman, having been president of the Tuesday Afternoon club during 1907 and 1908. Just sixty-three years ago the battle of Shiloh and Pittsburgh Landing took place. Mrs. Wright's husband, Colonel Crafts J. Wright was commander of a Missouri regiment during the battle. Following is the letter:

"Pittsburgh Landing, Tenn.,
"March 25, 1862.

"My Dear Children: Again from this point I write you sad news, weary of waiting for your father. After I wrote to you last General Sherman came to see me and stayed about half an hour. He told me just to remain patiently where I was, the boat was under his control, my cousin, the commander, and just do as I pleased and make myself comfortable as I could, for Crafts would be here. He said he expected they would march across country to Fort Henry and take the boat there.

"After that on Saturday afternoon, Captain Hammon came down from headquarters and took tea with me, he was very pleasant and kind, but looks badly, he has changed much since I saw him. He says his labors are very great.

"General Grant sent me word on Sunday that your father had been ordered ten days since to this point and could not account for his not arriving but he would certainly be here.

Strange Scene

"It is a strange scene my children, where I am, and one where preparations for a mighty conflict are being made.

"I arrived here last Thursday evening and since then ten infantry regiments have arrived, one cavalry and now a battery has just come in with several pieces of cannon. General Sherman has moved his division five miles out further on the road, he has just left my room again and says do not get out of patience, all will come out all right. It requires all my nerve to keep up. Last night I was very sick but feel better this morning. It is the first warm sunshine we have had since my arrival and had I your father here we could enjoy the sun, but my heart is aching for I know I shall be with him so short a time when he does come.

"I cannot go with him yet. It will be a consolation to see him and your brother once more, for I fear this will be our last meeting on earth. A deadly conflict must take place here, away from the river, where the gunboats cannot reach and the enemy will not always run, my children.

"The forces from Murfreesboro, have undoubtedly come off to this part of Tennessee, just where, no one knows. I thank Jackson for having gone over that ground, I know what a good point it would be for bringing troops from Richmond, Louisiana and Mississippi. You know it is the direct railroad from New Orleans to Jackson through Holly Springs and only five hours to Memphis. Of course if they fall back from Memphis they must go somewhere. Then too the Georgia line through Atlanta comes to Chatanooga.

Dread of Battle

"Oh, how I do dread this battle, it has come from the Potomac to the Tennessee and it will be a harder one than Bull Run. The banks here are high from the river, but the rear ground for some distance level. I walked over the ground where the battle was and gathered some moss from the trees, but I saw pieces of shell. So many soldiers camped all over now that everything of that kind is gone. I wish your pa was in Sherman's division. John McDowell is there and many Ohio regiments. Your pa would feel more at home. But the division is made up now. John McDowell is acting brigadier. I fear your father's regiment is in bad repute, so little seems to be known of it. One thing, there must never be a thing published again that comes from any of our friends, no matter what.

"I have learned much since I

KIN TOLD OF BROCKMAN TRUST

Details of the trust established by the late John Brockman, 201 Kenneth road, under which his estate valued at several million dollars will be managed were sent today to nearly half a hundred relatives by the trustee, the Security Trust & Savings bank. The inheritance tax to be paid to the state and national treasuries will approximate $500,000, it was learned today.

Appointment of the trust company by Brockman several years ago as trustee eliminates the usual necessity of probating the will. Three near relatives reside in Southern California, including a daughter, Mrs. Charles C. Thompson, and a granddaughter, who reside at the family residence on Kenneth road.

Valuable Properties

The Glendale home, surrounded by a landscaped estate of 100 acres is one of the important property holdings. Other valuable properties include the Brockman building at Seventh and Grand streets, and the site occupied by the J. A. Robinson store in Los Angeles, leased for 99 years.

The trust company was appointed by Brockman as trustee of the estate when he decided several years ago to retire from active management of his extensive business. With his death the company assumed entire control under provisions outlined by Brockman.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

Southern California is getting some good publicity from the recent rainfall. The announcement in the papers of the northern part of the state that the seasonal total is greater than last year has an effect of reassuring those Glendale and Los Angeles property owners at the capital that prosperous conditions will prevail.

Water means prosperity for the southland. The message of the Metropolitan water district bill, which is being amended in Senate committee at the request of its author, Senator A. Burlingame Johnson of Pasadena, will make possible the bringing in of Colorado river water to the counties of Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange and Imperial. And knowing the fertility of the soil, the writer predicts that irrigation of these lands would make the entire southland a veritable garden spot.

However, there are efforts on foot to kill this bill, if we are not to be mistaken in the opposition voiced to the resolution ratifying the six-state Colorado river compact. Every acre of land to be irrigated in Southern California means just that much less irrigated in Lower California where some of our well-known citizens have considerable land.

Also, the power companies do not relish the idea of cities and districts benefiting from hydro-electricity developed by the government. They fear for their own profits; and yet, if they looked at the future of the country, this writer does not believe they will ever worry for a field in which to operate. The more power available the more will be used. And the State Railroad commission certainly will not see the public utilities suffer for lack of revenue—at least not if past performances are any criterion.

The Legislature at Sacramento, which the writer is observing at close range, has but three weeks more in which to do something constructive in the matter of highways. It has a score of bills and constitutional amendments on the subject, and yet none of these are really satisfactory.

It is time for the automobile clubs of the state to get together on a program outside of politics and demand that it be carried out. Just why they have not done so, if you will pardon the thought, is due to the interests which now control the two largest clubs in the state.

This writer is not an altruist and he doesn't always expect others to have only pure thought behind their motives; but sectional feeling, business interests and political gerrymandering in important subjects before the Legislature, particularly highway construction and reapportionment, are tiresome.

The good of California as a whole should come before these other issues and the people should accept the challenge by demanding action.

Also, it might be well for public to look for leaders who will see that things are done as they should be done.

THOUSANDS EXPECTED AT MT. FOREST LAWN

Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher to Deliver Special Message; Augmented Choir Will Sing Hymns of Praise

Final arrangements were made this morning for Glendale's Sunrise Easter services which the city churches and Glendale Community Service will unite in presenting on Mount Forest Lawn, in the southern part of the city, on next Sunday morning, April 12.

The service of praise will begin at 5:15 o'clock, a few seconds before the sun will appear, but long before that time the Boy Scouts will be on the spot directing the crowds to advantageous trails and to parking spaces on an adjacent hill. From this nearby hill a short walk will bring the worshipers to the top of the mountain.

The services will be held on the steps of the Tower of Legends, over which a large electric cross has been placed. The cross, which will burn all night to lead the visitors until the sun rises, is being illuminated each night of Holy Week.

Easter Message

A beautiful program will be presented in the early morning gathering, with Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, of Los Angeles, delivering a brief Easter message. The first rays of the rising sun will be greeted by a cornet solo, "The Holy City," played by L. E. Wilbur and the Glendale Symphony orchestra and other music will be rendered by a chorus from the Glendale Choral club and the choirs of the city churches, and by the congregation. Frederick Warde, noted actor of Los Angeles, will read "God of the Open Air" (Van Dyke), and Rev. Ernest E. Ford and Rev. Clifford A. Cole, of Glendale, will pronounce the benediction and the invocation.

The final rehearsal of the special choir occurred during the Choral club rehearsal last night, large delegations of singers coming from out-of-town to prepare for the service. J. Arthur Myers, orchestra and choral club director, was in charge. Members of the Easter committee are George J. Lyons, Elwood Ingledue, V. M. Hollister, R. Ernest Tucker and Francis Gordon.

Republican Women To Hear Political Lecture

H. G. Redwine, Los Angeles attorney, will address a meeting next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock of the recently-organized Republican Women's Study club at Central Christian church, on "Development of Party Form of Government and Relation of Parties to Government." Mrs. Ella Richardson is club president; Mrs. W. E. Evans, chairman of program, said there will be musical numbers by Mrs. Alice Ripley, pianist, and Mrs. Frank Arnold, vocalist. A short business session will be held.

Mrs. A. G. Bartley Has Operation Performed

Mrs. A. G. Bartley of 1151 North Pacific avenue, underwent a major operation at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital yesterday morning. Dr. Westphal performed the operation.

Glendale Girl Dancer Appearing At Theatre

Miss Nita Lorraine Stoops, daughter of Mrs. S. A. Stoops of 411 East Colorado street, is appearing at Glendale Theatre with Dobrohotoff's Russian orchestra.

Horn Visitor Leaves For New York Home

Mrs. Frank Marley of Attica, N. Y., who has been spending the winter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Horn, and sister, Mrs. J. G. Smith of 431 West Broadway, left Saturday for home.

Our WeatherMan

LOS ANGELES, April 7.—"Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday, with moderate temperature," was the official forecast from the weather bureau here today for Southern California. Indications are that the rainstorm of the past week-end is over. Temperatures reported included: Boston, 46; Chicago, 48; Denver, 38; Kansas City, 56; Phoenix, 52; St. Louis, 52; San Diego, 50; San Francisco, 50; Los Angeles, 51.

WOMEN PLANNING SPORTS TOURNEY

Athletic Club Planning Two Big Events For May And In June

Election of officers in May and a tournament and field meet the first week in June are two events anticipated by the Women's Athletic club, which now includes approximately 150 members.

Officers and directors of the club met yesterday at the home of Mrs. L. L. Craven, 540 North Louise street, with Mrs. J. H. Toal, president, presiding. Mrs. J. J. Campbell was secretary pro tem, in the absence of Mrs. C. M. Conkling.

Mrs. Paul E. Webb was named a member of the nominating committee, the chairman of which will be chosen by the club at the business meeting at 8:30 o'clock Monday night at Harvard High school. Tentative plans were formulated for the tournament and field meet, Mrs. Ruth Windrem and Dr. Harriett Farnham being named members of the committee in charge. Further plans will be made at the club meeting Monday night. Ten new members were voted into the organization.

Members of the golf department spent today in Griffith park. Tennis players will meet at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Harrower court and motor to Brookside park, Pasadena. The meeting of the swimming department will be held Thursday.

All-American Concert At Clubhouse Tonight

Many out-of-town people are expected to hear the all-American concert tonight at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse under the auspices of Glendale Music club. Artists presenting the program at 8:30 o'clock will be Homer Grunn, pianist-composer; Lester Hugo Castle, baritone, and Ruth May Shaffner, soprano.

Mrs. Mattison Boyd Jones, club president, announced this morning additional names for the patron list as Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Craven, Miss Ethel Bird and Thomas White. Among those entertaining parties will be the Cravens, who will have as guests friends from Hollywood and Beverly Hills.

MASS MEETING FOR COUNCIL CANDIDATES

Public And All Running For Councilmen Invited To Gathering Thursday

H. V. Adams, president of the Glendale Municipal league, asked The Glendale Evening News today to announce that the league will conduct a mass meeting in the Harvard High school auditorium next Thursday night, starting at 8 o'clock, to which all voters in the city of Glendale are invited.

Also, stated President Adams, all of the twenty-one candidates for the City Council are invited to be present and will be permitted to talk briefly to the voters.

Asked if it were the purpose of the meeting to endorse candidates for the City Council, President Adams said that it was not; that the meeting was called to give the voters a chance to "look over" and listen to any or all of the candidates who wished to attend.

Some candidates who today learned of the proposed meeting expressed the belief that it was called for the purpose of endorsing a picked ticket of five candidates. However, President Adams is known to be a man of his word and his assurance that the meeting will NOT endorse any ticket should satisfy doubtful candidates and all should attend in good faith and be "inspected" and heard by the voters.

Call for Meeting

The call for the meeting, issued by President Adams, follows:

"There are twenty-one candidates for the office of city councilmen. Only five can be elected. Sixteen cannot be elected.

"Some of these candidates are better qualified than others. Some are possibly not worthy of being elected. We wish we knew how to choose wisely.

"The Glendale Municipal league has decided to invite the voters of Glendale to come out and meet before election such of the candidates as may feel disposed to accept this invitation to meet with them.

"Every voter in Glendale is invited to be present at a mass meeting to be held in the Harvard High auditorium this Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

"Every candidate for the City Council is invited to attend this meeting, and will be given an opportunity to have his brief say to the voters.

"This will give the voters a chance to look each man in the eye, to weigh the timbre of his voice, to judge the sincerity of his declaration, to compare qualifications which are apparent to the eye and discernible to the spirit. In fact, we can size up the men.

"The success of this mass judg-

Free Barbecue at Burton Heights

We are going to have the Barbecue at Burton Heights. The rain has spoiled two for us and we are glad it did.

We are going to pass up Easter Sunday because we don't want it to rain on Easter, and the next Barbecue will be Sunday, April 19th. We hope it rains again, as the rain is making money for all of us, and we are going to have that free Barbecue if we make it rain every Sunday for a year.

Daily Greeting to News Readers

COSMETICS CAN NEVER—
Be satisfactorily substituted for good health.
Atone for the lack of conversational powers.
Improve on the impression that modesty makes.
Hide the fact of an evil eye.
Fool anyone as badly as they fool some wearers.
Hold an advantage that character does not vindicate.
Make a scold any more beautiful.

LOVE TO HEAR FAULTS OF OTHERS

A popular cartoonist expressed a truth very forcibly in a recent effort. He pictures a campaign speaker telling an audience that their government is good and that rumors of graft are greatly exaggerated. He bores his audience who accuse him of having been bribed and who walk out on him. The one who tells them their government is rotten and run by crooks gets their plaudits and acclaim.

The easiest way to win attention and approval is to lambast someone from the platform, the pulpit, the editorial page or in the parlor. It never fails to get you a hand no matter who is the victim.

It is a trait of human nature to love to hear of the faults of others. The truth is we are all conscious of our own errors and shortcomings, and since misery loves company, it gives us a comfortable feeling to contemplate the sins of our erring brothers. And since the government is impersonal it is always safe to take a whack at it, when you wish to get the attention of the crowd.

COOLIDGE AND MYSTERY

Former Vice-president Thomas R. Marshall in a newspaper article declares that much of the popularity of President Coolidge has been developed due to his taciturnity, which has created an air of mystery that has appealed to the public imagination. Still, he gives the president credit for being astute, alert and discriminating, and for possessing a trained mind, personal honor, party loyalty and ingrained economy.

Mr. Marshall places too much emphasis upon the mystery angle of the president's popularity. The people did not give Coolidge an enormous plurality in the last election because he is a mystery, but because he is an open book; because they had confidence in him. Reticence does not necessarily suggest mystery.

The people of the country like Coolidge because they can understand him. His plain Americanism, his honesty of purpose, his common sense, his adherence to the fundamental principles of our government are things they can understand and appreciate at their real value.

PUZZLES PROMOTE GOOD HEALTH

Cross word puzzles serve many a good purpose, not the least of which is furnishing material for the newspaper paragraphers. But here is a new one. In a pamphlet issued by the state department, cross word puzzles are designated as the mental daily dozen. They are not only a mental stimulus, it seems, but conducive to good physical health as well.

"Health of mind," it is pointed out, "is of much consequence to happiness and well-being as is health of body. A rational circle of work, study, relaxation and amusement is essential to the health of mind.

"To solve a cross word puzzle requires mental alertness, concentration and strict application to order and rules. Moreover, it's great fun. Activity is increased under the influence of pleasant feelings, giving a stronger heart beat, stirring the glands to better performance and invigorating the organs of the body."

FIGHTING REFORM

Nowadays, when a man dares to raise his voice against any evil his motives are questioned. Especially is this true of men in public life and public office. In the president's cabinet, Secretaries Hughes, Mellon and Hoover have all been accused of personal ambition and political aspiration because they have tried to administer their portfolios with skill, judgment and patriotism. Vice-president Dawes, because he wishes to correct an evil in the United States Senate, is accused of trying to advertise himself in preparation for his candidacy for president. The man who is capable, patriotic and practical has a hard time at Washington. As soon as he makes an attempt to eliminate outworn and cumbersome methods and substitute for them efficiency and common sense, mediocrity mobilizes and places every obstacle in the way of his bringing about the reform he champions.

MONEY-GRABBERS

A New York syndicate writer in Paris speaks enthusiastically of having secured his passage home, saying, "The fact is, I am fed up on petty grafting. I have reached the point where, when there is a knock at the door, I instinctively reach for a franc. I have horrible dreams of hundreds of hands reaching out toward me. I curse myself for my cowardice and do nothing about it. A hat-check girl today accepted a tip for a casual service and then asked for more. And, weak-willed ninny that I am, I gave it to her."

Americans go abroad and pay double the prices charged natives for the same article or the same service, without a murmur. They spend their money freely and dispense gratuities with a lavish hand. And then Europeans call us "dollar-worshippers."

SAFETY CAMPAIGN

A campaign for safety on the highways and city streets is to be inaugurated June 1 by the California Development association, with the two great automobile clubs of the state cooperating. The mounting list of automobile accidents and fatalities makes such a move highly desirable and necessary. What course will be pursued in the campaign has not been announced, but it is certain that very little can be accomplished unless there is a whole-hearted cooperation with the movement on the part of all drivers and pedestrians. An educational campaign to impress upon all the people the necessity of considering the rights of others and using care and judgment, whether driving or walking, would seem to be the first requisite in a safety campaign.

IOWA POORLY ADVERTISED?

Having many claims to eminence, Iowa is known solely for her hogs, corn and cattle, says the Dubuque Telegraph-Herald, which goes on to say, "She is the most poorly advertised state in the union. Is it possible that bad roads can account for it?"

Evidently the Telegraph-Herald does not know how widely Iowa is advertised in California, nor that the Iowa tourist crop is much more highly esteemed here than the hogs, corn and cattle of that great agricultural state.

The Difference Ten Thousand Years or So Makes in Us!

Truth

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Truth seems often disagreeable and cruel, but in reality it is the loveliest thing in the world.

It is hard for us to give up our pleasant fictions, our superstitions and fancies, and come down to realities, but those who have done so find out by and by that what is real is always more beautiful than what is merely fancied.

The actual sunset over the lake, the glory in the sky and on the water, is infinitely above what any painter can copy. So we may rest assured that what we have fancied about death, and about God and about other things concerning which we know nothing, are weak in comparison with the realities.

I believe that, in the long run, what is true and what is beautiful and what is good are all the same.

It takes time to find this out and we must pass through that varied experience called life in order to understand it. Fortunate is he who discovers it early in life.

There are those who say, "Give me my old faith." If it is not true, do not tell me. Do not disturb me from my beautiful dreams.

This is the subtlest kind of disloyalty, for it is unbelief in the truth. It is confidence that something artificial, something that we or others have made is better than what Nature has made.

We say, on the contrary, rest assured that whatever has grounds in Nature or in God, in other words whatever is actual, is more beautiful and satisfying than anything that is fictional.

Fiction is but a poor attempt to imitate the real.

Horoscope

Astrologers read this as rather an uncertain day. Although Jupiter and the Sun are in benefic aspect early in the morning, Uranus is strongly adverse later in the day.

Under this planetary government the mind may be uncertain, changeable and subject to wrong impressions. It is well to keep in mind that mental balance must be maintained.

While there should be much activity in many lines of business at this time, there may be mistakes of widespread effect in commercial projects, the seers prophesy.

The tendency to speculate will be widespread and should be discouraged, for it will be most unfortunate for the average person.

Bankers and financial agents have the best possible augury for this month, in which unexpected circumstances may have much influence.

This should be rather a favorite sway under which to seek preferment and it is foretold that political aspirants may be successful under this rule.

There is a sign foreshadowing renewed criticism of men in public office, for their judgment in momentous matters will be questioned.

Danger from propaganda that stirs up strife and foments belligerency again is indicated.

Ambition is likely to soar under this rule of the stars, but it will not be altogether fortunate, since many will aspire to heights to which they cannot climb.

There is rather a sinister sign for meetings or associations that affect men and women. Men probably will be inclined to be deceitful and yet plausible.

The moon today is in a sign that is supposed to affect the digestion, and for that reason care should be exercised in the matter of diet.

Mars is in a place said to presage a fire of great extent and heavy damage which may almost ruin a certain city.

Persons whose birthdate it is should keep in their usual routine of work, for they will have good fortune. The young will court.

Children born on this day may be inclined to seek adventure. These subjects of Aries are usually hasty in making decisions, high-strung and very generous. Girls command the reverence of the opposite sex.

Today's Poem

THE FIRST BLUE-BIRD

Jest rain and snow! and rain again!
And dribble! drip! and blow!
Then snow! and thaw! and slush! and then—
Some more rain and snow!

This morning I was most afeared
To wake up—when, I jing!
I seen the sun shine out and heerd
The first blue-bird of Spring!—
Mother she'd raised the winder some;—
And in acrost the orchard come,
Soft as an angel's wing,
A breezy, treesy, beesy hum,
Too sweet for anything!

The winter's shroud was rent apart—
The sun burst forth in glee,—
And when that blue-bird sung, my heart
Hopped out of bed with me!

James Whitcomb Riley.

Who's Who

With the exception of Henry Clay, New Mexico's new senator, Samuel G. Bratton is the youngest man ever to sit in the United States Senate. He is 36 years old.

Bratton comes to the Senate from the supreme court of his state. Since his entry into political life he has leaped rapidly from one position to another, never serving out a term.

He was nominated for district judge when he lacked a few months of coming within legal age limit but attained the required age, 30, before the election. He resigned this office to qualify for the supreme bench, and later resigned there to come to the Senate.

Besides being the youngest member, he has the distinction of being the only red-haired member of the Senate. But there is no appearance of hotheaded youth about this new senator in spite of his age and the color of his hair. He has little to say, and what he says is said quietly. Many of the white headed men on the Senate floor are more impetuous and fiery than this young red-head from the west. But he has a determined air.

Bratton is a Democrat. He defeated his Republican opponent, Senator John O. Bursum, by 2800 votes.

DAUGHTER FOUND

SACRAMENTO, April 7.—While the police of Sacramento and Yolo counties have been conducting search for Santos Palofax, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Palofax, for several days in the "jungles" of the Sacramento river delta on representations by the frantic parents that their child had been kidnaped, the girl was found in care of a woman living in Washington, six miles from the tent home of the Palofax family. The girl told two stories to the police. She said she was attacked in the tent by a Chinese who forced her to accompany him and later admitted that she disliked her mother and determined to walk to Nevada, where she said an aunt lives.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNAIRD

It is an old axiom that the understanding of nature always leads to its control.

CLARK KINNAIRD

It is obvious that the functions of the brain must be better understood in order that, without intellectual or moral deterioration the human race may stand the new conditions imposed on the individual by modern civilization.

It is not surprising then for Dr. Alexis Carrel, scientific liehunter, to be saying that the knowledge of the conditions that permit the evolution of judgment, imagination, kindness, our courage in a race, family or individual, or of the conditions that bring about the disappearance of the qualities, would give the human race far more happiness than the complete eradication of plague, cholera and typhus from the earth.

"The spiritual progress of man could be greatly promoted by a scientific knowledge of the physio-chemical phenomena which take place within the brain cells.

"Instead of merely increasing the number of human beings, we could increase their quality. The progress of medicine, understood in this manner, would be the most important factor in the development of civilization."

Dr. Carrel, practical prophet, believes the hope of man is research.

* * *

Science will win this battle for man because it is interested only in truth. The man of science has learned to believe in justification, not by faith, but by verification.

Thomas Huxley, one of the forerunners in modern science, spoke a credo for research when he said: "There is no alleviation for the sufferings of mankind except veracity of thought and of action, and the resolute facing of the world as it is when the garment of make-believe by which pious hands have hidden its uglier features is stripped off."

* * *

The man of science absolutely refuses to acknowledge authority, as such.

For him, scepticism is the highest of duties; blind faith the one unpardonable sin.

Anyone who is practically acquainted with scientific work is aware that those who refuse to go beyond fact, rarely get as far as fact; and anyone who has studied the history of science knows that almost every great step therein has been made by the "anticipation of Nature," as Huxley calls it.

There is a lesson in this for all of us who believe things without ever having investigated or thought about them.

Timely Views

Hope for the future happiness of man rests upon the development of a new science for the understanding of the brain to the end that man may stand the stress imposed by modern life, Dr. Alexis Carrel, of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, said in a recent address.

Using the topic: "The Future Progress of Medicine," Dr. Carrel discussed the miraculous results obtained as the result of the control of infectious diseases and decried the lack of knowledge concerning mental and nervous diseases, whose nature, he said, "remains almost as mysterious as it was during the middle ages."

It was on the results of research in pure science that Dr. Carrel said he based his hope for the future. The development of the new psychology, founded on pure science, he said, was the only hope of improving the quality of human beings.

"Modern psychology, in spite of its progress, will have the same relation to this supreme science as alchemy to the chemistry of the middle ages," he declared.

After referring to the conquest of infectious diseases because of the work of Pasteur, Dr. Carrel said that preventive medicine has allowed profound modifications in the mode of living, so that men might be crowded into large cities without danger of epidemics.

"While the ultimate significance of Pasteur's discoveries cannot be foreseen, it is certain that medicine, in protecting men from infectious diseases, has already accomplished miraculous progress," he continued.

"But we may doubt whether this victory has so far brought much happiness to the world. Has it greatly modified the position of the average man as regards disease and death? Probably not.

"Although the adult individual has fewer chances of dying from smallpox, cholera, tuberculosis or typhoid fever than fifty years ago, his expectation of reaching the age of 75 or 80 has not markedly increased.

But he surely has more prospect of being tortured by some form of cancer, slow disease of the kidneys, the circulatory apparatus, the endocrine glands, of becoming insane, suffering from nervous disease, or of making himself miserable by his lack of judgment and his vices. Modern medicine protects him against infections which kill rapidly, but leaves him exposed to the slower and more cruel disease and to brain deterioration.

"The knowledge of the conditions that permit the evolution of judgment, imagination, kindness, courage in a race, family or individual, or of the conditions that bring about the disappearance of these qualities, would give the human race far more happiness than the complete eradication of plague, cholera and typhus from the earth."

left home and will tell you when I return. I wish I had Charley with me, he could see soldiers, horses, mules, cannon wagons and all, for, as I sit here writing with my room door open, hundreds of men and horses are on shore, working, toiling, loading wagon after wagon with corn, flour, meat and potatoes, hay and everything pertaining to man or beast and I think of Colonel Boneville's remark, when you see wagons move and plenty, horses, mules and men then you may know it means something.

Strange Picture

"The sun shines brightly, the robins are singing all around, the numerous boats on the water is a strange picture for our country and there is not a house to be seen within two or three miles, except one which was shattered by a ball from one of our gunboats.

"Dr. Carney has been to see me twice, last evening. He remained until 9 o'clock. He is on the gunboat Taylor, which stays here. She and the Lexington are in the river. He looks well in uniform. I meet many old faces and much kindness is shown me but I long for home and will hail with joy the moment when I can leave. I will not, however, no matter how sad and lonely I feel, abandon this point until I see your father, for although alone I feel safe and all treat me with kindness and respect.

"I hope all will go well with you until we meet again. It seems so long to know how you all are but I must wait and hope.

"Love to all and kisses all around.

"Your affectionate mother."

Diamond Thieves Get $50,000 In Gems

NEW YORK, April 7.—Jacob Ross, employed by a downtown diamond firm, was beaten by bandits and robbed of $50,000 worth of uncut gems today in a hallway of the building, 74 West Fortieth street. Ross had gone to the Fortieth street building on business. Instead of entering the elevator, he elected to walk up. At the head of the first flight he was suddenly attacked by two men who wielded a blackjack on his head.

PALM TREE TEXT USED IN SERMON

Rev. Edmonds Sees Beauty, Strength, Usefulness In Plant Symbol

Rev. W. E. Edmonds of the Glendale Presbyterian church spoke on Palm Sunday on the subject of "Palm Tree Christians," using the text found in Psalms 92:12: "The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree; he shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon," saying:

"The Psalter was the hymn book of the Jews. It contains 150 devotional hymns. Among these is this Ninety-second. It is entitled 'A Song for the Sabbath Day.' It matters little that we do not know the author's name. Evidently he belonged to the school of nature lovers, seeing God in Nature. So many voices in the world, and none of them without spiritual significance. At night, the minstrel heard the stars singing, 'The Hand That Made Us Is Divine.' The flowers spoke to him of the wisdom of the Creator. Like the exiled duke in the forest of Arden, he found 'tongues in trees.' Traveling through the desert, staff in hand, the lonely palm tree broke the silence, 'Pause, traveler, and I will tell thee of the righteous man.'

"The three factors of righteousness are strength, beauty and usefulness. Behold them in the palm tree.

"Strength—With roots deep in the earth, it sends its trunk and leaves high into the upper air. It defies the storms before which other trees snap like pipestems, saying: 'Bend me, you may, but break me, never!'

"Beauty—Note the stately grace and lines of beauty. It is little wonder that Solomon adorned his palace with carving of the palm tree and overlaid its doors with gold fashioned upon palm branches.

"Usefulness—The Arab who lives in the shelter of the palm speaks of its 300 uses. Give the Bedouin his palm and he is content to let the world sweep by, while he bows his head and murmurs, 'Thanks to Allah, who gives the palm tree,' and flings his weary body down under its shelter.

Christian Strength

"The Christian's strength is the strength of faith, a faith rooted and grounded in Him Who Is Truth. One who can say 'I know in Whom I have believed' can also say 'I stand.' Turning the eye of faith on Him, he exclaims: 'He only is my rock and my salvation. I shall not be moved.'

"The Christian considers the problems of faith in the light of revelation. Hence his convictions are proof against the fashions and opinions of the world about him. He has committed his all to the guidance of Him Who makes no mistakes. 'So he shall not be moved.' The Christian's strength is both downward and upward. His aspirations are measured by his faith. He is an idealist because he is a realist; an optimist because he is a believer—the roots of his faith being deeply rooted in Divine Grace. 'If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above.'

"The believer's beauty is the beauty of holiness. The one green thing in the desert is the palm tree. It lifts its fronds so far above the arid waste that, when the strength of the simoon is spent, no trace of dust is seen upon its foliage. So is the Christian—in the world, yet not of it. This is his ideal, toward which he yearns, and can realize only in Christ.

"The beauty of holiness is like that of the palm tree, perennial. The summers of prosperity and the winters of adversity are alike to it. If all goes well and skies are clear, thank God. If clouds hang black and storm sweeps, still thank God, Who is 'refuge and a hiding place from the windy storm and tempest,' for 'the righteous man is like a tree planted by the river of waters, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither.'

"Then, too, like the palm tree, the believer is useful with the usefulness of true service. Our Lord in one of His last interviews with His disciples said: 'I am the Vine; ye are the branches. He that abideth in Me, the same bringeth forth much fruit.' 'As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good to all men.'

"As the palm tree finds, deep under the earth's surface, the living stream of water and grows thereby, so the Christian finds his life and beauty and usefulness deep in Christ. He is strong only in His strength. His holiness is the result of being partaker of the Divine Nature. His usefulness is measured by his co-operation with Christ in the work of His Kingdom. 'As the Father hath sent Me into the world, even so send I you.'

"This is the Christian's business, to hasten the coming of the Kingdom of Christ. If the coming of Christ to set up His Kingdom waits for the completion of the Body of Christ, then we may hasten His coming through our good works which have as their ultimate aim the bringing in of such as shall be saved.

"The climax of the lesson of the palm tree is a new beatitude: Blessed are those whose lives are hid with Christ in God. Is your life thus hidden?

"Let us today hail Him as Lord and King, He and He only Who is great, yet tender-hearted enough to weep over human wrongs and strong-hearted and stout-hearted enough to redress them."

CARPENTER SHOT

SAN JOSE, Cal., April 7.—Mrs. May Whitehouse, 49, trained nurse, shot and probably fatally wounded Jesse Mitchell, 62, a carpenter, as he was working on the roof of her home here. Immediately afterward she surrendered, declaring, according to the police, that she had shot Mitchell because "for weeks he had annoyed and insulted me and made life unbearable."

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, April 7.—Eagle Rock lodge No. 422, F. & A. M. have planned an open meeting to be held tomorrow night. Entertainment will be provided by the Edison company. Eagle Rock chapter, R. A. M., is preparing for a dance to be held at a future date.

Harry Cates, who recently suffered a stroke of apoplexy is recovering rapidly at his home on Windermere avenue.

A concert is scheduled tonight at the Women's clubhouse when Miss Ruth Thompson will play a number of her compositions. She will be assisted by Miss Perle Drese, a young Eagle Rock violinist. Richard Bender will accompany Miss Drese on the piano.

Louis Champoux, Eagle Rock artist whistler, gave two numbers at a recent gathering in honor of Judge Bledsoe, candidate for mayor of Los Angeles. After the entertainment Champoux was engaged by Mrs. Hubbard, district manager, to entertain at another reception to be held later.

Relatives of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Herson, Eagle Rock boulevard, have received news of their arrival in Washington, D. C. When their business in the east is completed they will include many eastern cities in their itinerary of the return trip.

WILLYS-OVERLAND

DETROIT, April 7.—The Willys-Overland corporation established a new record in March, producing 24,300 cars. Retail sales for the month were 38 per cent ahead of March, 1924. Buick retail sales were 18,000 and April

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, April 7.—Dramatic impersonation of Robert Browning's "Caponsacchi" from "The Ring and the Book," by Robert Woods Van Kirk, will be the entertainment feature at the meeting of La Crescenta Woman's club, Wednesday afternoon at La Crescenta school on Los Angeles avenue. Mrs. Charles M. Turck, club president, announces that the meeting will begin at 3 o'clock.

Of the program she says, "'Caponsacchi' is Browning's St. George, his highest conception of spiritualized manhood. In this character we have the best illustration of Browning's magnificent creative genius. The interpretation is given by Mr. Van Kirk, who has entertained many clubs, colleges and universities in the east. Our club is the only club that has the distinction of securing the program gratuitously.

"Robert Browning has the misfortune to be generally regarded as so abstruse and profound as to be the despair of ordinary minds, and Mrs. Van Kirk, an enthusiastic student of this great poet, is aiming to awaken new interest in his writings by showing how intelligible and thrillingly interesting they may be made by dramatic interpretation.

"Because of the interest of the program the club is issuing a general invitation to the public to attend."

FARM IMPLEMENTS

NEW ORLEANS, April 7.—Agricultural implements sales here are booming. Several houses report certain lines of implements entirely sold out.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, April 7.—Ellen Ehrhart was elected president of the Christian Endeavor society at the annual meeting held at the home of Miss Myrl Sly. Other officers named at the meeting include Dudley Smith, vice-president; Myrl Sly, secretary; Charles Kreigbaum, treasurer; Anna Doane, chairman missionary committee.

Easter school vacation will begin in Burbank schools on Friday, to continue until Monday morning, April 20. Many activities are planned for the week by students and teachers. Hiking will occupy the time of the Boy and Girl Scouts.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Mary Williams, resident of Burbank for many years. She has been living at Hollywood for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. John Parish of West Tenth street have left on a motor trip to Las Vegas, N. M. They plan to make only a brief stay in that city, visiting friends.

C. C. Duncan has obtained a permit to construct a modern five-room house and garage at 1051 Tujunga avenue to cost $4000.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Pierce, 237 Grismer avenue, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eva Pierce, and Alven Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simpson. No date has been set for the wedding, which is planned for some time this summer.

and a broken heart—no hand but his master's could have saved him. Can you let things with feelings like that mourn out their lives in a cage or die needlessly at the hands of even the most humane of executioners?

Await Good Homes

Are there enough dog lovers in Glendale to care for the dogs that dog haters discard? Answer this to your conscience. Some dogs are, of course, lost from cars that pass through Glendale. They are often valuable and their owners would give much to recover them—but do not know where to look. Some may be undesirables—a few undoubtedly are—they are disposed of. But most of them are good fellows whom carelessness on someone's part has left unclaimed. They are asking for another lease of life. Will you give it?

If you are a resident of the city purchasing a dog license and a $2 membership in the Humane society entitles you to any dog you may desire. If you live in the county, outside the city limits only the membership is necessary. The Humane shelter is situated at the foot of Ivy street, just off San Fernando road. Its phone number is Glendale 1118-J. Competent caretakers are in charge and will extend you every courtesy. Won't you at least give them the opportunity? The shelter opens at 7 a. m. and closes at 7:30 p. m.

ZONING PROBLEM STUDIED FURTHER

Chamber Decides To Go Into Industrial Situation More at Length

A further study of zoning problems in Glendale will be undertaken by the special Chamber of Commerce zoning committee, it was announced yesterday when the committee, headed by T. W. Watson, chairman of the City Planning commission, asked that he and his associates be given a longer time to look into present zoning conditions before a report is made to the industrial board of the chamber.

A general study of zoning in Glendale is planned by Mr. Watson, he said, not only with respect to suggested changes in the business zone, but residential and industrial problems as well. Mr. Watson made it plain that the report of his committee, when made, will be merely in the form of a recommendation. He said he would advocate that changes in the ordinance be made only through signed petitions presented by property owners affected. Other members of the zoning committee are H. C. Vandewater and E. Coker.

At a meeting of the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon, plans for location of four new industrial plants in Glendale were disclosed. Other industries seeking to come to Glendale were discussed. Lloyd H. Wilson, chairman of the committee, presided.

Dr. Beckman To Start New Class In French

Dr. Frederick E. Beckman announces that tomorrow morning at 9:30 a beginners' class in French will start at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Dr. Beckman has innumerable friends here on account of his unique and original method of teaching the Romance languages. Scores of Glendale women have attended his French classes every Wednesday from 9:30 to 11:30.

On account of the interest taken by the club women of Glendale who wish to acquaint themselves with the French language it is predicted that the enrollment limit will have been reached when the class forms tomorrow. Dr. Beckman is still conducting the Spanish class every Thursday morning from 9:30 to 11:30, which gives the women of Glendale an opportunity to have knowledge of two of the world's most beautiful languages.

Bruin Seen In New Role

Bears, harnessed as were the steeds of Nero, to Roman chariots, driven in an amazing spectacle by pretty damsels at the AL G. BARNES circus, coming to Glendale tomorrow, where they will "do their stuff" for the grown-ups as well as the kiddies.

"The little red schoolhouse—on wheels."

That's where the children of Al G. Barnes big four ring circus, coming to Glendale tomorrow are taught "readin' an' writin' an' 'rithmetic" the same as other youngsters.

The little sons and daughters of the big show receive all the care and schooling and the influences that mark the youngsters of the great "outside" and are as well bred. Their education is directed with painstaking care, while the health of the youngsters is carefully looked after by a school physician and trained nurse.

The "rolling schoolhouse" has an able principal and a strong faculty of experienced college graduates who provide the children with thorough courses in language, science, history, mathematics and practical subjects.

When the circus returns to its winter quarters at Culver City, the children are transferred to a little "red school house"—only it's painted green and white—on the big eighty acre park just outside of Los Angeles. Here the children of the staff are given splendid instruction by graduates of several famous educational institutions of France, England and America.

Singing, drawing, modern writing and physical training are stressed in all grades. Manual training, domestic science and commercial courses are provided for students of higher grade. These volunteer instructors are employes of the show, traveling with it, and so the school bell rings on the road.

You'll see how happy these youngsters are when the big show opens here with the sensational feature, "Pocahontas at the Court of Queen Anne," the gorgeous extravaganza that opens the big program. The cast includes a bevy of beautiful maidens, all former motion picture actresses and three tribes of Indians.

Then there is the greatest movie star of them all—Joe Martin, himself.

PHYSICIAN'S GLAND EXPERIMENTS ASTOUND SCIENTIFIC WORLD

Through a New Scientific Discovery the Vital Glands May Be Assisted in Their Work of Supplying the Energizing Glandular Secretions which Are So Necessary to Vigorous Health.

Thousands of Men and Women Now Take Glandogen to Help Regain Normal Health, Vigor and Strength

Wonders have been worked in the rejuvenation of youth and vigor by glandular treatment in one of California's State Institutions. This "Scientific Magic" has been performed by the head physician and surgeon, who reports success in 90% of 1000 cases treated.

Probably the most remarkable instance is the case of a 73-year-old man who displayed the athletic prowess of a youth of twenty by running a 50-yard race in 6 seconds.

EMINENT SCIENTISTS AND PHYSICIANS REVEAL AMAZING FACTS ABOUT GLANDS.

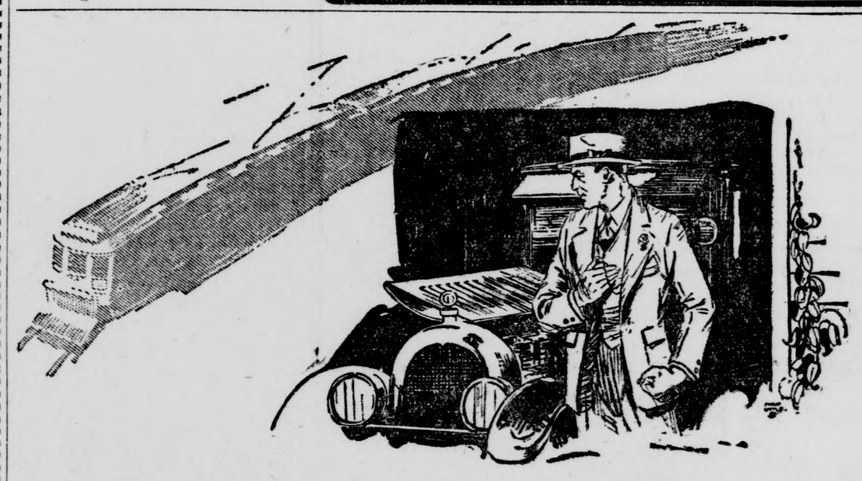
Dr. Serge Voronoff, an international authority on Organotherapy has said: "The brain, the nerves, the muscles, as well as the liver, the kidneys and all other organs would be incapable of playing any useful part without the aid of the glands. The functioning of our organs is no more than the activity of our glands."

At a recent medical convention in Chicago an eminent physician stated that because of the intimate connection of the nervous system with the glands, many sufferers from nervous disorders were receiving remarkable benefits from glandular treatment. He further stated that this glandular treatment could be taken by mouth like any other medicine, and that an operation is not necessary.

Dr. Arnold Lorand says in his book, "Old Age Deferred," in speaking of the glands: "We must insist upon the reinforcement of their functions, if changed by age or disease by means of extracts obtained from the similar organs of healthy young animals."

GLANDULAR TREATMENT (GLANDOGEN) CAN NOW BE TAKEN IN CONVENIENT TABLET FORM.

Thousands of men and women are now turning to glandular treatment to help regain lost strength, vigor, vitality and health. Since science has prepared a gland treatment in simple, compact tablet form—Glandogen—it is a simple matter to take glandular treatment. Glandogen is scientifically prepared in two different forms, one for men and one for women, from the vital glands of healthy young animals, combined with other efficacious ingredients. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Ahlmann Drug Co., Brand at Harvard, will supply you.



One Day

His Own Car Failed Him

—and he learned the convenience of The Red Cars

"FUNNY how sometimes mishaps will lead us to fortunate discoveries," said the man from Pasadena.

"One morning about a year ago one of my cars was out of service, the other was scheduled for family use, and so I came to town on a Red Car.

"That morning I arrived at my office eager to begin the day. My mind was keen, my thoughts in order, and I had finished routine matters of correspondence a full hour earlier than usual.

"The energy I had been using in 'keeping up with traffic,' had been employed where it was far more valuable.

"There had been none of the discomforts of parking, none of the worries over dented fenders, scratched paint or stolen tires.

"And all these drafts upon my nervous forces suddenly seemed to me so entirely unnecessary.

"The truth was that I had discovered the convenience of The Red Cars. My family as well have profited by this discovery. Shopping tours are taken now via The Red Cars with but half the fatigue that used to be a part of them.

"Automobiles have their place—and a vastly important one it is, too, in this community—but that place is certainly not downtown Los Angeles."

* * * *

Frequent service is a feature of The Red Cars. The stops and stations are so arranged as to serve the convenience of the majority.

It has been said of the Pacific Electric that one can stop almost anywhere in Southern California and a Red Car will be along in a few minutes.

And convenience is only one of many attributes of The Red Cars. Their comfort and their economy—their saving of time, money and mental strain—are responsible for more and more town dwellers seeking homes in the countryside each day.

HOW CAN TAXES BE REDUCED?

MR. STEPHEN PACKER:

Dear Sir—In reply to the questions propounded by you, I will answer as follows:

"The citizens of Glendale have recently heard much concerning the subject of taxation and I realize that this is an opportune time to give the voters my brief opinion as to how the taxes can really be lowered.

"FIRST—The foundation of this all-important question is not the method of taxation; that matter is fixed by the laws of the state, and the question as to whether said method is good, bad or indifferent does not enter into the problem. The solution depends entirely upon the men and women who are elected to the legislative bodies of our local government, to-wit, county, school and city.

"SECOND—If elected to the Council I pledge to keep uppermost in my mind the fact that every dollar expended by the city would mean an additional tax of one dollar which the taxpayers will be called upon to pay each year; hence, having promised to vote for lower taxes, I would necessarily scrutinize every item before voting for the expenditure and assure myself that the city will receive in return for every dollar expended one hundred cents in value of service, labor or material.

"THIRD—It is an undisputed fact that in the past few years several million dollars have been expended for public work, which was levied by special assessments by the City Council against your property and my property, and while I firmly believe in a constructive program of necessary public work I am most emphatically opposed to any further improvements unless requested by a majority of the property owners affected by the assessment for the proposed improvement. That the petition must be a bona fide request of the property owners, circulated by them and not by a paid representative of some paving or material concern.

"FOURTH—Realizing that the present laws of the state in relation to special assessments provide how the proceedings shall be had for assessments of public works, and that said proceedings are, as a rule, complicated and not understood by the average taxpayer, I am in favor of giving the taxpayer the benefit of all publicity concerning said proposed improvements that can be given in addition to the requirements of the law.

"FIFTH—I am opposed to retaining in the service of the city any officer or employee who will either directly or indirectly use his position to further the interest of contractors of public work, and that if elected I promise to make a careful survey of this proposition, with a view to breaking up any so-called pools of contractors, all of which will aid greatly in the reduction of special assessments.

"SIXTH—I am opposed to the method of enforcing traffic laws for the purpose of securing revenue rather than for the safety of the public at large. I am in favor of a reasonable policy that will add to the dignity rather than ridicule the good name of our city.

"In conclusion, would state that I am not unmindful of the fact that many of the voters of Glendale are engaged in business or are employed in the city of Los Angeles, and that these voters have received very little consideration in the past. I promise that if elected, I will vote in favor of open meetings to be held in the evening in order to give every voter an opportunity to attend."

BUILDING RECORD SET IN GLENDALE

Seventeen Permits Taken Within Day; $79,050 Involved Total

Seventeen building permits, totaling $79,050, were granted by the Glendale building department during the twenty-four-hour period from noon yesterday until noon today, making a new record for number of permits for any similar period in April.

A permit to construct a 50-room apartment house at 820 South Maryland avenue at a cost of $35,000 was issued to W. E. Cleveland, who will do the work himself. James Royle obtained permits to build a 10-room duplex at 308-310 Sinclair street, at a cost of $4,500 and two other houses to cost $3,900.

Building for the month totaled $164,950 at noon today, bringing the year's total to $2,231,060.

Police Empty Liquor Into VerdugoWash

Gurgling its last gurgle, nearly every variety and brand of whiskey, gin and near-gin known in bootlegging lore started on its way back to the Pacific from whence most of it came today when Detective Lieutenant Royle broke forty-three bottles of liquor into the "wash." He was aided by Sergeants Blake and Mercer.

The liquor, seized and used as evidence was a two-months' accumulation. And, while some of it was believed by police to have been imported from Canada, as it was made at a distillery, most of it was made in Los Angeles — bottles, labels, corks and liquor.

mother, according to the witness, and denied she had fired more than one shot. Testimony had indicated two shots were fired.

"I pulled the trigger but once," Dorothy said.

Mrs. O'Shea told of a conversation with Dorothy in which she declared she disliked Alexander Mooslin, her chief counsel, because he had told her he would not permit her to take the witness stand.

Dorothy liked literature and "good books," Mrs. O'Shea testified.

The state expected to close its "defense" this evening.

In its efforts to prove the titian-haired young defendant sane the state today assumed the role of her champion before the jury of ten men and two women who will decide her fate.

Through Policewoman Kathryn Sullivan, who was her constant companion for two weeks and who declared she was about the best friend the girl had in the world outside her father and brother, the state pictured Dorothy as a girl to whom "truth stood above all things," as a tender-hearted girl who shared her candy, fruit and flowers with an unfortunate jailmate suffering from a broken shoulder, a connoisseur of literature and a person thoroughly sane and regretful of her crime.

Mrs. Sullivan said Dorothy had read Oscar Wilde's "Ballad of Reading Gaol," Longfellow's poems and several of Shakespeare's works while in jail.

April 2nd, 1925

The service of Councilman Sam Davis in bringing about the electrification of the Union Pacific Railway on Glendale avenue is one of the outstanding features of his administration and is very worthy of consideration.

I feel that his re-election is of the utmost importance to the City of Glendale.

FRANK L. FOX.

April 6th, 1925.

Mr. Sam Davis,
Glendale, California.
Dear Sam:

It will give me pleasure to vote for you, work for you, and recommend you to the voters of Glendale. I know that you have saved thousands of dollars for the City in getting rights of ways for our sewer. That you have given your time freely without pay and at your own expense.

I also know that you were the main factor in settling our sewer problem for all time, and without which our City could not prosper.

Yours very truly,
DAN CAMPBELL,
President.

Mr. Sam Davis, Councilman,
City Hall, Glendale, Calif.
Dear Sir:

In determining what candidate I should support in the Glendale City Council I have taken occasion to check over the constructive legislative program of the City of Glendale during the last four years and it is pleasing to find that you have sponsored the largest proportion of progressive matters. I find that you moved the creation of traffic commission, which in my opinion was a step in the right direction. You have also attempted to protect the interests of the people by creating a Tax Appraisal Committee. You have fought for and succeeded in putting over one of Glendale's greatest accomplishments—the sewerage system.

I have always been able to know just where you stood on a proposition. Sometimes it is natural that opinions should differ, but I have found you always attempting to put over the things for the best interest of Glendale, and I therefore take great pleasure in offering you my support in the coming election and will do all that I can to get my friends to vote for you.

Yours very truly,
JAMES F. McBRYDE.

DARKENED WINDOWS

"What are you going to do now?" Graham asked.

"Send a man out to see if there is a shoe shop in New York that still sells congress gaiters, and then start a hunt for the taxi which picked a woman up just beyond the corner where our accident happened. As you are handling Mrs. Hurst's affairs, you might offer a reward."

"Whatever you say," agreed Graham. "And now I suppose that the King of France—that's you, and his forty thousand men—that's me, may as well march down the hill again and go home."

"Yes, there's nothing more to be done here now," Flint admitted. "But hold on a minute. I want to tell you that I've found out who sent the message that called Mr. Hurst away from Colonel Sanford's dinner, home to his death."

Graham swung around. "Who?"

"Guess."

Graham shook his head. He had already puzzled in vain over that telephone call.

"Work it out this way, Graham, the way I did, then you'll see. Colonel Sanford's butler testified that it was a woman's voice on the phone. Now, of course, a dozen women we don't know about might have wanted to make trouble that night, but how many do we positively know of who had any connection with Mr. Hurst and his affairs? Even counting the maid, Marie—just four. Now comes the question—what reason had any one of those four for calling Mr. Hurst home, or for sending him information, perhaps, which brought him home?

"Miss Estelle Hurst I eliminate, as, according to the kitchen maid, she was in the house at the time and the telephone message came from outside. That narrows it down to three. The maid, Marie, was at the theatre with the chauffeur the entire evening. Remains, then, Mrs. Hurst and Miss Smith. Now we know that Mrs. Hurst was out that evening, so she might have telephoned from the drug store. And, in her case, it isn't impossible to find a motive. For instance, dislike of her stepdaughter, and desire for revenge. Marie tells me that Miss Hurst treated her abominably. Now, if she had found the German, to whom Mr. Hurst, perhaps, had forbidden the house, and Miss Hurst together, in her husband's absence, and wanted to make trouble—"

"She is not that sort of woman," broke in Graham hotly. "When you say a thing like that it is laying a smutty finger on a lily. And, anyway, she would have called up from her own house—used the downstairs telephone."

"Exactly. That's how I put it myself. I crossed off Mrs. Hurst. There were three crows sat on a stone, as the song goes. Two flew away and then there was one—Miss Smith. Her letter to Brown gives us a motive, two of them, in fact—jealousy and revenge, and jealousy will make a little cat like that do anything. There's nothing of the lily about Miss Smith. I was fairly sure that she was the woman I was after, but I had to have proof. It's too long a story how I managed to get her into the drug store where the telephone call came from, but I did it, and the clerk identified her like a shot, without her suspecting a thing. That was yesterday. Now I want to find out why she sent that message. I can give a pretty shrewd guess, but guessing isn't proving. This is the way it looks to me, though: Gwendolyn is in love with Brown; Brown, playing her false, is paying court to the beautiful Miss Hurst; Papa Hurst, hating the Gemans like poison, has forbidden Brown the house. But Miss Estelle, taking advantage of papa's absence, meets Brown and brings him home with her. This the fair Gwendolyn somehow discovers and sees her chance to 'get even,' to 'spoil her game,' as she wrote Brown. So she slips into the nearest telephone booth and informs Mr. Hurst of what is happening. Then, having started something, the little cat sits back on her tail and licks her paws and purrs and waits to see what will happen next. But, believe me, she isn't purring now! Things didn't happen the way she meant them to. She's scared, and she's mad. What of—what for?—I'm asking myself. She has talked a good deal, but she hasn't answered those questions yet. She hates Miss Estelle Hurst with a really magnificent hatred, and that loosens her tongue somewhat. And what a tongue! Sometime, when I can get her going, she will say something she'll wish she hadn't. That's what I'm waiting for."

With that the two men separated, and Graham turned homeward alone. As he entered his uncle's house he was met by Philippa's nurse, one of those gentle, timid souls whom affection renders bold. Without circumlocution she approached him on the subject of Philippa's bracelet, flushing and paling as she spoke. Where was it? Why did he not bring it back. Philippa, she explained, was convinced that it was lost, but would not ask her cousin about it any more for fear of hurting him.

Constant fretting for it was affecting her health. There was an old superstition about it, it seemed, some old prophecy attached to it. The girl kept saying 'Lose me not, or love is lost,' till the nurse was fairly distracted.

Greatly distressed, Graham found himself pledged, before he knew it, to return the bracelet to Philippa immediately.

"Don't delay," the nurse urged. "This is something more than just the fancy of a sick girl. With the loss of her bracelet, she seems to have lost the incentive to live. Don't wait too long."

Like a shadow the slender figure in gray flitted up the stairs, leaving dismay behind her. The situation which Graham had trifled with had become critical. He was pledged to return the bracelet without delay; his cousin's frail life might depend on it; but what could he do, what was there to do except to demand it of Evadne? He shuddered away from the thought. It would be tantamount to saying to her that she had lied the night of the murder; that at the very moment that the shot was fired she must have been in the house with her lover, because in her room he had seen Philippa's bracelet which only her lover could have given her, and given her only on that night. No, no, he thought, never could he say that! Besides it was false, all that those imagined words implied—he knew it was somehow false. With a gesture of loathing, he put away all idea of appeal to Evadne. Some other way must be found of recovering the bracelet.

He considered, for a moment, the advisability of bribing Marie to purloin it from Evadne's jewel case. But that, he objected, would be putting both Evadne and himself in the Frenchwoman's power, and to his mind that meant blackmail, and scandal, and all sorts of horrors. Of a Frenchwoman he had a rooted, unreasoning distrust, inherited possibly from a certain dour Scotch ancestor high in the counsels of John Knox, who had feared and distrusted the witchery of Marie Stuart, his queen.

Graham's next idea was to stage a robbery and hire a thief from the underworld to commit it. Such things were done in certain detective tales he had read. He contemplated this plan, for a while, with some satisfaction. He even went so far as to work out certain of the details. But in the end he discarded it. The house was too well watched to give it any chance of success. As he went in and out, although he saw no one, he had always a sense of eyes that followed him.

Remained then but one other way—that which he had jestingly dwelt on when first he had learned what store Philippa set upon her bracelet—he must be his own burglar.

It did not take Graham long to discover that deciding to be a burglar was far easier than actually becoming one. All things, animate and inanimate, seemed to conspire to keep him in the straight and narrow way. The broad way is usually easy of access in this naughty world, but to Graham its gates were closed. He wanted to be criminal, and he couldn't.

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS WORD PUZZLE

The way to solve the Cross Word Puzzle is to fill in the white squares of the diagram with the words which agree with the accompanying definitions. The definitions are numbered to correspond with the numbers on the diagram. Any word defined in the text under "HORIZONTAL" will begin at its number, shown on the diagram, and will extend all the way across to the first black space to the right of that number. That is, the word must begin in the square that contains its identifying number, and extend as far as the white squares continue uninterruptedly. Any word defined under "VERTICAL" will also begin in the white space that contains its number, but will extend downward as far as the white spaces remain uninterruptedly.

UNCLE WIGGILY

UNCLE WIGGILY AND BILLIE'S SNOW

Between two great rocks in the forest was hidden a pile of snow. Billie Bushytail, the boy squirrel, found the snow when he was scampering around one warm day, looking for any nuts he and his brother might have missed when they gathered their supply the winter before.

"Ho! A pile of snow!" chattered Billie when he saw it. "I guess this is the last snow of the winter. It has melted from all other spots in Woodland except just here. I'm going to save this snow, and when Fourth of July comes I'll make snowballs and surprise the other fellows. This is my snow!"

Since he had found it, Billie thought he might keep the pile of snow. The rocks were so high, grown round about as they were with trees, that the warm sun could not shine on the pile of hidden snow to melt it. Often in deep woods a pile of snow like this will last half the summer.

The little squirrel boy was much pleased with himself for having found the last snow of the winter. He picked some of it up in his little paws, finding it quite as cold as any snow he had ever touched. He made a little ball of it and tossed it in fun at a robin who was looking around for a place to build a nest.

"Oh! You give me the shivers!" sang the robin as he flew away.

Billie laughed and was going to scamper down the hill when he thought of another way to have some fun.

"I'll scatter some of my snow on the ground here and make a slide," he said. "It will be fun to slide when winter is past."

The little boy squirrel scampered back to the rocky refrigerator that kept the snow from melting. Scattering some of the white flakes out on the ground with his paws, Billie patted it down and soon he had made a little slippery slide. Down this he slid, but not for long.

Because as soon as the snow was scattered from its cool place, out in the open where the warm sun could shine on it, the snow melted.

"But, anyhow, I had some run," chattered Billie. "I'll leave the rest of the snow in the rocks until Fourth of July. Then I'll surprise Sammie Littletail and the other fellows."

As Billie was running away he heard some one coming up the hill very fast. Feet were pattering on the dried leaves.

"Maybe that's some of the bad chaps, looking for Uncle Wiggily, to chase him!" thought Billie, his heart beating very fast under his warm gray coat of fur. He was about to hide himself between the snow rocks when, as he looked a second time, he saw Uncle Wiggily coming up the hill, and the rabbit gentleman was hopping as fast as he could.

"What's the matter, Uncle Wiggily?" chattered Billie.

"I guess—now—I guess—a—bad—chap is after me!" panted the rabbit gentleman. "I was walking along when all of a sudden, I heard a sniff, and some one began to chase me. I didn't look back but I hopped fast, and here I am. Oh, Billie, do you think you can help me fight off the bad chap?"

"Of course I can!" bravely cried Billie. "We'll fight him with snowballs."

"Snowballs?" wonderingly exclaimed the bunny. "There is no snow left!"

"Oh, yes there is!" chattered Billie. "Look!" and he showed the white pile in the rocks. Come on!" Make snowballs!" said the boy squirrel. He and the bunny gentleman made a lot of snowballs, and just then a big bear came lumbering up the hill.

"Soak him!" chattered Billie, as boys will. The two threw a lot of snowballs at the bear, hitting him on the head and nose.

"Wowchie! Ouchie! Stop!" howled the bear with a laugh. "Don't you know me?" "I'm Neddie and Beckie Stubtail's father!" And, surely enough, that's who it was—the kind old bear gentleman himself. "I chased after you, Uncle Wiggily, to tell you that you dropped your pocketbook," said Mr. Stubtail. "I guess you thought I was a bad chap, didn't you?"

"I surely did!" laughed the rabbit. "Please excuse us for throwing snowballs at you!" So Mr. Stubtail forgave Billie and the bunny, and there was so much snow hidden in the rocks that Nurse Jane made some ice cream of it, and gave Billie a large dish. So that's all to this story. But if the jumping Jack doesn't try to carry home a pound of sugar in the lace curtain and spill it all over the street, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily playing ball.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

OVERWEIGHT AND HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

"Show Dr. Peters how large you were when you came here."

The man, agreeably complying with the doctor's request, pulled his vest which was hanging loosely on him, forward. There was almost space enough under it for another good sized man.

"Cost me a lot to put on that front," he smiled, rather ruefully.

"It is not altogether inexpensive to take it off, is it?" chuckled the doctor.

I was making the rounds with the head of this famous institute for metabolic diseases. We were calling on a man and his wife, both patients—the man suffering from high blood pressure, and the woman considerably overweight and a diabetic. How often we find this, both husband and wife overweight. Of course, the reason is obvious—they both eat the same type of food, rich and over-concentrated and both underexercise. All too often, this bill of fare lands them in ill health and if they have the means, in some institution for repair.

Yesterday we talked on Overweight and Diabetes. Today we will discuss Overweight and High Blood Pressure.

CAUSES OF HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

1. Psychic—fear, excitement, anger, excess worry. All these can produce a tempoary rise. The internists say this is largely because of the pouring into the blood stream of the powerful secretions of the ductless glands. If these emotions are indulged in too frequently, there may be a permanent rise of the blood pressure.
2. Overeating and overdrinking.
3. Overexercise and overwork.
4. Chronic toxemias, (Diseased tonsils, teeth, nasal sinuses, chronic constipation, etc.).
5. Obesity.

Some authorities think that excessive tea and coffee and excessive smoking will also produce hardening of the arteries, which in turn will cause high blood pressure.

There is one large insurance company that is now making the statement that of all the causes of high blood pressure in their clients obesity is the most often found.

TREATMENT

The causes of high blood pressure give a clue to the treatment. They must be done away with. After there is a marked change in the arteries, the blood pressure will not come down to normal because it is necessary to have some pressure above the normal in order to force the blood through the body. It is the unnecessary high blood pressure which must be eliminated.

The teeth should be examined by the X-ray to see if there are any abscesses at the roots. The tonsils must have a thorough examination to be sure that they are not chronically diseased. The fact that tonsils are small and apparently not giving any trouble is not always an indication that they are not covering pus pockets. Of course, there should be a thorough physical examination of the entire body.

"In hypertension (high blood pressure) which presents no symptoms and which is accidentally discovered, it is necessary only to regulate the hygiene and diet. Most of these patients eat too much and take too little relaxation. It is the author's belief that meat of all kinds should be very much limited. (Some authorities exclude salt, also. L. H. P.). Most people habitually eat too much. At rest, the average man can keep in health on 2000 calories daily. Certainly 2,500 calories should not be exceeded even when the individual is moving about in normal activity. It would be distinctly helpful if patients were fed on a caloric basis rather than by the usual haphazard method. A heavy meal causes a distinct rise in pressure. Rest for half an hour after meals is helpful. Mild open-air exercies should be urged.

"Hydrotherapy is useful. Hot baths as well as very cold ones are to be avoided. An occasional sweat-bath under supervision is indicated. Massage is also be recommended. A sojourn at a sanitarium where hydrotherapy and massage are systematically given is often of great benefit." (Tice's Practice of Medicine).

If you are overweight, reduce! If you missed our instructions, you may have them by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with ten cents in stamps, with your request.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s.a.s.e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

A Reader: "I would appreciate seeing a recipe for Marshmallow Icing for layer cake in the column."

Answer: Follow any icing for "Boiled Frosting" but add five quartered marshmallow candies before beating the mixture. Here is a recipe recently sent in by a Reader Friend, which you may like to try:

"Original Marshmallow Cake Icing and Filling: (Mrs. F.).

Beat together for several minutes two cups of confectioners' sugar, one tablespoon of strawberry jam and one cup of that canned marshmallow called "mist." Spread. This has a pink color which is very pretty."

Mrs. M.: "My baby broke the mirror in my ivory hand glass. Where can I have a new one put in?"

Answer: Write to the company that made the mirror and ask this question. If you do not know the company's name, try to find it out from the store where you bought the mirror. If I were in your place, however, I should not try to have a regular beveled glass put in it; I should take it to any picture-framing store (or a hardware store, where they have a glass-cutter) and have a good portion cut from some old, larger mirror to fit the ivory holder.

Anxious: "Please give me a recipe for pastry made with eggs."

Answer: Puff paste was formerly made with eggs, but few modern cook books contain this recipe. Patty shells, however, frequently are made with eggs. I regret that I cannot tell you the exact amount of flour to use in the following recipe (I do not like to publish recipes which cannot give this precise information, or recipes which call for baking but omit to say for how long and in how hot an oven! I wish my Reader Friends would always mention these things in contributing a recipe. Young and inexperienced housekeepers need very explicit information).

Patty Shells Made with Eggs: Mix together one quart of sweet milk, one egg, one teaspoon of oilve oil, one-half teaspoon of sugar, a pinch of salt and flour enough to make a stiff dough. Dip your ungreased iron shell in the batter and drain a little before plunging it into hot lard. When a delicate brown, carefully remove from the fat and drain on blotting paper.

Tomorrow: Hot Cross Buns

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

Dr. Boyer was in attendance at the convention of the Southern California Medical association. Mrs. Newell was honored today at a luncheon given at the Wilshire Country club by Mrs. Harry P. Goodwin of Los Angeles.

Woodcraft Meets

Three candidates were initiated last night at the meeting of Glen Rose circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, at Hahn's hall, Mrs. Minnie V. Littleton, guardian neighbor, presiding. New members initiated were: Mrs. Lyle Justus, Mr. Foster and Mr. Wichter. Forty members were present. Plans were made for an "Experience social" to be held April 20.The following committee was appointed to have charge: Mesdames Adelaide Meyers, Margaret O'Donnell and Joe Billingsley. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Oldtime Song Hits To Feature Realty Lunch

"Old time songs and a bit of yesteryear" will feature the weekly meeting of Glendale Realty board tomorrow when associate members of the board under J. M. Whittingham of the Harley G Preston Co., will have charge of entertainment in singing old time songs. Allen Fair, salesman for Galvin and Woods, will be at the piano.

The realtors will meet at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse at 12:15 o'clock instead of at the Episcopal church Guild hall. Final plans for the annual realty board dinner at the Tuesday clubhouse next Saturday night will be announced by James M. Rhoades at the luncheon. President W. L. Twining and Charles B. Guthrie will render reports on the meeting of state directors at San Diego last Saturday.

MONTROSE NOTES

MONTROSE, April 7.—The Montrose Chamber of Commerce will meet Tuesday night, April 7 in the Montrose school at 7:30 o'clock. The important question of merging the organization with the La Crescenta Improvement association will be the chief topic discussed. Other questions to be considered will be ornamental street lights, similar to those lately erected in Glendale. After the meeting the date for the next special call meeting of the La Crescenta Improvement association will be determined.

Verdugo Hills lodge of the I. O. O. F. will be visited on Tuesday night, April 7 by the degree team from the San Fernando lodge. The meeting will be held at the Fowler auditorium at the corner of Honolulu and Los Angeles avenues.

The excavation of the new Verdugo Hills post No. 228 is practically completed. Members will lay the floor joists preparatory to the erection of the frame which through arrangements made by Legionnaire Royal Lowe will be put up by the members of the manual training department of the Roosevelt school of which Mr. Lowe is departmental instructor. Commander A. E. Baron, A. N. Villmur and A. T. Blanford are the committee on building.

WOOD HONORED

SACRAMENTO, April 7.—Students of the state farm at Davis have selected Will O. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, to be one of the judges to select the girl to be crowned "Queen Mary" during the annual picnic of the student body, which will be held April 25.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

ANSWERED LETTERS

Sonny: As you cannot have the electric needle treatments, you can rid yourself of this superfluous hair by using tweezers to extract it as fast as it appears above the surface of the skin. This is not a cure but it will give relief, and may weaken many of the hairs so they become thinner and finally drop out.

F. G.: A short, stout person must learn to stand perfectly so there is no tendency to slouching or getting down anywhere, either at the waistline or the knees. The carriage of the shoulders, neck and head is also very important, for you can really add to or take from your height an inch or more by the way you hold your head.

It would be well for you to go to gymnasium and learn how to attain correct posture. Your friend can get the exercises also that will be helpful in her case, and both of you will not only improve your figures, but will gain much in your general health.

Lee: A girl of 18 years with a height of five feet, three inches, should weigh about 115 pounds. Try gluten or whole wheat bread instead of that from white flour, and do not eat potatoes for a time. If you train yourself to eat a little less of everything for a week, you will find that you do not require so much food.

Hope: If you rub a very little bit of powder into your scalp before you go to a dance, it is possible that your hair will stay in curl during the evening because the perspiration will be absorbed by the powder before it can dampen the hair.

Use peroxide to bleach the hair on arms and legs.

X. Y.: Dash very cold water over chest and bust every day and dry with a coarse bath towel, using light friction. This treatment is merely to stimulate the circulation, but you will find that the muscles of the chest and bust will lose their flabbiness after a month or two. Deep breathing acts as gentle exercise which will do much toward keeping the bust firm, beside keeping the waistline supple, and the back free from fatty tissues.

Hopeful: There is no such thing as a permanent cure for freckles through bleaching, for, as long as freckles are natural to you, you will be forming them anew. Lemon juice, buttermilk, or cucumber juice are simple bleaches that will lighten freckles for a day or two; but it is not good for the skin to apply any bleach to it to any extent, as it dries out all the oils and will very soon make it harsh. Freckles always accompany a clear skin and are rarely unbecoming.

Tomorrow: Styles in Hair Dressing

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Surprise Shower

Miss Annie Fuelsher of 622 North Isabel street, was a surprised honoree at a delightful miscellaneous shower Saturday afternoon, planned by her cousin, Miss Vera Baeder, of Colorado, a guest in the Fuelsher home. The Easter motif was carried out in pretty decorations of yellow and white. Favors were yellow roses. Games were played and a lunch served. A shower of lovely gifts for Miss Fuelsher was found in a horn of plenty which centered the luncheon table.

Those present, were Miss Martha Oldweiler of Decatur, Ill.; Mesdames Harry Orbach, Harry Bensfield, Anna Bensfield of Los Angeles, Miss Clara Renck of Alhambra, Mrs. W. C. Powell, Mrs. J. Evans and daughter Mabel of Long Beach, Mrs. Arthur Maurer of Stanton, Mrs. W. G. Owens, Miss Margaret Fife, Mrs. Baeder, Mrs. A. H. Fuelsher, Misses Annie and Alice Fuelsher and Miss Vera Baeder. The engagement of Miss Annie Fuelsher and Clyde Prout has been announced informally.

Episcopal Girls

A business meeting of the Girls' Friendly society of St. Mark's Episcopal church was held last night at the Guild hall. Miss Georgina Campbell is president. Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock by Mrs. E. H. Parker. During the dinner the weekly paper of the society was read by Miss Esther Veitch. The budget for the year was tentatively adopted by the organization, the total sum being $140. The sum of $5 was sent for the tornado relief fund. Three changes in the constitution of the national organization were ratified. Miss Grace Crampton, past president of the society, and branch representative to the diocesan council, tendered her resignation last night. At the meeting next Monday night, Miss Florence Newbold, extension secretary for New York headquarters, will be present to speak.

Bridge Luncheon

Milford Street Card club was entertained recently by Mrs. Horace G. Hosford of 233 North Central avenue. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock. Marigolds were used to decorate the table and Easter chickens were favors. Two tables of bridge were in play and prizes were won by Mrs. I. D. Vinton of Hollywood and Mrs. Eustace Young. The club will meet April 17 with Mrs. H. A. McPherson, 607 North Central avenue. Members present were: Mesdames I. D. Vinton, Eustace Young, Henry Drummell, C. H. Thompson, John Strain, E. W. Cizek and Mary Griggs and the hostess.

Baptist Union

The Women's Union of First Baptist church will meet all day Thursday at the church. Mrs. H. W. Sloat will have charge of sewing in the morning for the White Cross. Luncheon will be served at noon at a nominal charge by district Number 7, of which Miss Miller is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Robert Morrow. Mrs. J. Roger Bentley, first vice-president, has charge of the program, which will include special music and a play "Garments of Glory."

Neils Are Hosts

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Neil of 350 West Colorado street, were hosts Saturday night at a dinner party for a group of friends. Red sweetpeas and red candles were used to decorate the table. After dinner Mrs. Allen Lyndell of Hollywood, entertained with piano solos. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lyndell of Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Warren LaBarr of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rowan of Pasadena.

Makes Home Here

Miss Martha Oldweiler of Decatur, Ill., who visited her cousin, Mrs. A. H. Fuelsher of 622 North Isabel street, a year ago, was so greatly attracted to Glendale that she has returned to make this city her home. Her arrival last week was a surprise to her relatives, who are delighted with her decision to remain. Miss Oldweiler will be engaged in business in Los Angeles, but will reside in Glendale.

Shrine Installs

Plans are being carried out for the installation Saturday night at Masonic temple, of recently-elected officers of Omar Shrine, No. 9, White Shrine of Jerusalem. Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts, retiring watchman of shepherds, and worthy high priestess, will be installing officers. Mrs. Sara Frances Leland and Raymond A. Luring, head the new staff of officers as worthy high priestess and watchman of shepherds.

Presbyterian Aid

The Aid society of Tropico Presbyterian church will meet all day Thursday at the church. The meeting will begin at 11 o'clock and luncheon will be served at noon by Mrs. M. N. Barnes and Mrs. S. E. Brown. A business meeting will be held in the afternoon.

Class Surprise

A surprise program is being arranged for the meeting of the J. O. C. class of First Methodist church, at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the church.

Farewell Honor

Mrs. William Mackie of Milwaukee, Wis., who has been spending several months as a guest at the home of her brother, George Mitchell, "Glen Carrn," Ridgeway drive, was honored last night at an informal affair given by Mr. and Mrs. Shives Mitchell, 3657 East Cypress street. Mrs. Mackie is to leave Friday for her eastern home. There were present last night Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Mitchell, Burt and Paul Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Will Richardson, Mrs. Ella Richardson, Mrs. Rose John, Miss Jeannie Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Shives Mitchell. High score at bridge was held by Mrs. George Mitchell and Burt Richardson, while consolations went to Mrs. Will Richardson and George A. Mitchell.

Entertain Club

Mrs. H. A. Thimm of 505 West Wilson avenue entertained yesterday the Monday Afternoon Bridge club. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock at a table decorated in harmony with the Easter season. California poppies formed the centerpiece and Easter chickens were favors. Guests were: Mrs. Mont Richardson, sister of the hostess, and Mrs. Mary Richards. Prizes for bridge were awarded to Mrs. H. A. Thimm and Mrs. Mary Richards. Mrs. Emily Johnson of 463 West Myrtle street will entertain the club April 20. Members present were: Mesdames Homer D. Lockwood, E. W. Cizek, Mary Griggs, I. D. Vinton of Hollywood and Emil Johnson.

Rehearse Scenes

Rehearsal of scenes from "The Winter's Tale" for presentation at the club's reciprocity day late this month was a part of the meeting yesterday afternoon of the Shakespeare department of the Tuesday Afternoon club. Mrs. H. W. Ralston, curator, is greatly pleased over the work being done by members taking part in the three scenes. Mrs. M. F. Garrett, instructor, directed the study of "The Tempest." Mesdames Topping, Ward and Rowsey read a scene from the play. Hostesses were Mesdames Kingsley and Ernest Carr.

Birthday Party

Kensington club members and members of the Women's Relief Corps will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home of Dr. Carolyn Paine, 515 North Kenwood street. The affair will also be a party honoring her mother, Mrs. Mary L. Paine, on her birthday. A short business meeting of the Kensington club will be held. A special invitation is extended to elderly members of the Women's Relief Corps.

Hosts at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Edwards of Los Angeles entertained at a pre-wedding dinner Saturday night at Oakmont Country club, the affair being given to honor their son Jack and his fiancee. The table was artistically decorated with white carnations and sweetpeas. Covers were laid for fourteen guests. After the dinner the evening was spent dancing.

Attend Meeting

Mrs. J. M. Cowlin and Mrs. Grace Dreyer, members of Lester Meyer chapter, American War Mothers, attended the meeting of representatives of Los Angeles chapters of War Mothers yesterday in Los Angeles. Matters pertaining to the work of the organization were discussed, including Mothers' day, May 10.

Church Delegates

Mesdames L. J. Millikan, H. D. Ross and Fannie Ford are delegates from the Women's Missionary society of Broadway Methodist church, South, who will attend the annual convention of Women's Missionary societies of the denomination tomorrow at San Bernardino. The convention will continue Thursday and Friday.

Sew for Hospital

Maids and Young Matrons of the Tuesday Afternoon club are to spend all-day Thursday at the clubhouse sewing for the Maternity hospital. This department of the club devotes one whole day each year sewing for the hospital. Mrs. Claude G. Putnam, curator, urges all members to attend.

M. E. Philatheas

Philatheas of First Methodist church are to have a cafeteria dinner at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the home of Miss Wilma Krukow, 221 South Jackson street. Miss Mary Rich, president, will preside over a business meeting later in the evening.

NEWS OF STAGE AND SCREEN

VIEWS AND PREVIEWS—NEWS NOTES FROM STUDIOS

Compiled By Members of The Glendale Evening News Staff

Modern Tale

What happened when two middle-aged parents lost their perspective of things in an endeavor to tone down the activities of the young folk thronging a country estate, is told entertainingly in "The Mad Whirl," Universal-Jewel all-star production now being screened at the Glendale theatre.

The picture story was adapted from "Here's How" by Richard Washburn Child, former minister to Italy. May McAvoy has the feature role, and she is supported by Jack Mulhall, Myrtle Stedman, Barbara Bedford, Alec B. Francis, Ward Crane and George Fawcett.

This vivid chapter of ultra-modern life will close at the Glendale tonight, but Dobrohotff's imperial balalaika orchestra comprised of fourteen Russian artists who escaped when the mensheviki lost their last foothold and the Red army swept over Russia, will continue until Thursday night.

Orchestra Attracts

This orchestra has attracted much comment in Glendale since it started its engagement here on Sunday. The native instruments, made by Dobrohotff himself when he could find none in America, are highly interesting in themselves. They are triangular in shape and vary in size from the small ukulele to the bass cello, each containing three strings. The music is weird and beautiful.

An inimitable burlesque peasant dance is introduced by a former captain in the czar's army as a country bumpkin, with Helen Verdi, one of Russia's best known actresses as his rustic sweetheart. Boris Kairow sings the "Volga Boatman" song in a setting of flowing water, while Miss Nita Lorraine, a talented Russian dancer does the posonoc steps with marvelous dexterity.

BOYS' SHOP TRADE REPORTED BRISK

W. O. Richards, Located At West Broadway, Denies Moving Location

To avoid confusion which might arise in the minds of Glendale mothers, W. O. Richards wishes to announce that his Our Boys' Shop positively has not moved nor is he contemplating moving from the old location at 104 West Broadway, where this business has been located for more than a year.

Mr. Richards states that Easter buying is unusually brisk and he expects that all this week will see many people throng the streets of Glendale for their Easter finery. Most mothers will take care of their boys says Mr. Richards and every boy at Easter time looks forward to his new suit.

Our Boys' Shop is receiving large shipments of new spring and Easter merchandise every day this week to take care of the Easter shopping public. It is its aim to have the largest and best line of boys' clothing ever displayed. Mr. Richards says there is a strong unconditional and unlimited guarantee that goes with every sale made at the store which entitles the purchaser his money back if for any reason he is not satisfied.

New Luncheon Club Proposed For City

It is announced that Glendale has been selected by the Loyal Knights of the Round Table International as the point for the establishment of a new luncheon-friendship-service club to be known as "Glendale Round Table." Associate Extension Director Herman J. Powell has been designated by the international board to assist in the establishment of this new table, it is stated.

NAN HALPERIN IS HIT AT ORPHEUM

'Baby-Talk' Impersonator At Spot Position; Elliott Dexter Pleases

Down Orpheum way this week everything looks bright. Some things are brighter but the brightest is Nan Halperin who picks up the audience and takes them far away into the land of sunshine and happiness. Miss Halperin is an artist and she proves her ability in the character studies of a baby girl, Queen Catherine, and that of a showgirl. It has been a long while since Nan has been in Los Angeles and the reception given her certainly showed that she had better not stay away so long again.

If you want to make $50 just sit through Elliott Dexter's "Playlet Without a Name," and select what you think would be the most appropriate title. Mr. Dexter does good work but he should let somebody else write his plays.

Harry Webb and company went over big with illustrated musical numbers. "If Winter Comes," "Follow the Swallow" and "Old Familiar Faces" were the hits of his act.

Stan Kavanagh is no slow juggler and the way he handles the hats, balls and other articles is astounding to say the least. He has a line of chatter which keeps everybody in an uproar while he goes through his most difficult feats.

Harris and Holley have a crap game on the stage to everybody's enjoyment. Kay and Lorene Sterling try to break their necks on roller skates in the curtain raiser. Ed Pressler scores big with the aid of Blanche Klaiss.

Zoe Delphine and company with their wire walking do everything up in the air that most everybody wouldn't want to do on the ground.

International newsreel and Topics of the Day sent everybody home feeling that day in and day out—week in and week out—year in and year out—the Orpheum shows are the greatest anywhere at any price.

'GREAT DIVIDE' ON GATEWAY SCREEN

Arizona Romance With Alice Terry, Conway Tearle, Current Film

Popular acclaim was responsible for placing Alice Terry and Conway Tearle in the roles of Ruth Jordan and Stephen Ghent in "The Great Divide," the Metro-Goldwyn screen version of William Vaughn Moody's famous Arizona romance which is playing the last times today at the Gateway Theatre.

Suggestions from the public and from dramatic critics throughout the United States, solicited by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio after film rights to the famous play had been acquired, named Mr. Tearle and Miss Terry the ideal pair for the star parts in "The Great Divide."

Almost every leading man and woman in motion pictures was put forward, but the names of Alice Terry and Conway Tearle led those of the other candidates by a wide margin. Other prominent players in the cast include Wallace Beery, Zasu Pitts, Huntley Gordon, Allan Forrest, Ford Sterling, William Orlamond and George Cooper. Waldemar Young prepared the adaptation.

Madrigal Quartette To Broadcast L. A. Bill

A double quartette from the Madrigal club of Glendale will sing Wednesday afternoon on the program broadcast from Los Angeles by First District, Parent-Teacher association. Singers will be Mesdames J. Ray Bentley, C. L. Viereck, L. E. Richardson, Southworth, A. M. Draper, C. A. Parker, H. L. Bullinger and John W. Cotton. Madrigal club members met yesterday afternoon at First Congregational church to rehearse for the old-fashioned concert April 17 at the church.

Stereopticon Lecture For Nazarenes Tonight

Rev. Henry Sullivan will speak at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Nazarene church, 417 East Acacia street. His subject will be "The Protestant Reformation" and will be illustrated with stereopticon slides. Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock Evangelist John T. Hatfield will open a campaign at the church.

Strong Role

MISS THYRA RUHLAND, who plays the part of the hospital nurse in "Manna," the Dobinson Players' current production.

Because of the fact that Glendale Playhouse was leased to another attraction months ago, there will be no performance of "Manna" by the Dobinson Players this evening. This is the only break in the program, however. The play will resume tomorrow night and will run the balance of the week, with the usual matinee on Saturday.

The Players are hearing a good deal from their recent essay at broadcasting. On Friday night a full hour's program was given over KFWB, Warner Brothers' broadcasting station in Hollywood. Apparently, from the comments which are being heard, it was very enjoyable.

Those who took part were Miss Myranna Richards, the Welch contralto, who sings in "Manna"; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cavanah, of Glendale, who sang; Miss Florence Wilbur, of Hollywood, former director of the Community Arts Players at Santa Barbara, who gave a reading; Miss Mary Alpaugh, William H. Stephens and Miss Kate Lockhart, who have the tenement room episode of, "Manna"; and the Salvation Army band which appears at each performance.

Captain Michael J. Phillips, Mrs. Dobinson's personal representative, was in charge of the program, and in his introductory speech and in explaining the various numbers, stressed the fact that Glendale is the home of a really notable stock company. There was a large audience in the broadcasting rooms, and each of the Glendale Playhouse numbers was heartily applauded.

Owing to the fact that he was putting on a program of one-act plays at the Writers' Club in Hollywood, Director Fred J. Butler of Glendale Playhouse, was unable to be present and give his message.

It took considerable maneuvering to present the bill, and the players and the Salvation Army rushed from the stage with their makeup on to be whisked in cars to the broadcasting station. Several of them arrived just as the announcement of their number was being made. It was a close fit, but there were no slips.

A pleasing character in "Manna" is the Miss Thyra Ruhland, the hospital nurse, she radiates understanding and sympathy, just the qualities needed as a foil to bring out the best in the characterizations of the maimed soldiers.

RAINS AID COTTON

HOUSTON, April 7.—Recent rains have improved the Texas cotton situation, and a 6 per cent increase in acreage planted is predicted.

DANGER SIGNAL FLASHED BY "NERVES"

When you suffer from sharp, darting pains, nerves a-tingle, nerve fatigue, accompanied by a feeling of exhaustion, yet are too restless and upset to seek needed relaxation, the nerves are sending out to you a cry for help. Heed this plea! If you do not, serious consequences may result.

For years scientists have sought an effective remedy for such a condition. Thousands of tests and experiments have been made, yet, heretofore, no sure remedy has resulted. Now, at last, an eminent San Francisco physician announces a new discovery based upon the science of Homeopathy, a form of treatment recognized by many prominent physicians as the most effective remedial agent known to science.

This discovery is compounded into Eopa Neuritis Tablets and is now available to all who want relief from neuritis, neuralgia, nerve pains and other forms of nervous disorders. If you suffer from "nerves," try this remarkable preparation at once before your condition gets worse.

Eopa Neuritis Tablets are free from narcotics, bromides and coal tar products. Your druggist will recommend them.

Ahlmann Drug Co., Brand at Harvard, will supply you. Mail orders filled.—Advertisement.

My dear Doctor Traxler:

I have noted your decision to get into the race for Councilman for the city of Glendale in the coming election. I am sure we need the highest type of men in this position in a city like ours. The city of Glendale is a great corporation with serious problems to solve, and it takes men of caliber and moral stamina in the position of city Councilman. From my acquaintance with you over a period of some two years I believe you have the business training and that you will measure up in the matter of moral standing. I have noted your position as stated in the newspapers as to certain general attitudes on civic questions, and as I recall them I heartily approve.

FAVORS GIRL FOR CITY TREASURER

Judge Hartley Shaw Says Miss Ruth Kerns Is Fitted For Place

Judge Hartley Shaw, pioneer resident of Glendale, former city attorney, and now judge of the superior court of Los Angeles county, endorses the candidacy of Miss Ruth Kern for city treasurer. Judge Shaw says:

"I am very glad to endorse the candidacy of Miss Ruth Kern for the office of city treasurer. She has served as deputy in that office for several years, including the time while I was city attorney of this city; and during that time I had frequent opportunity to observe the manner in which she performed her duties. I found her thoroughly conversant with all the duties of the office of city treasurer, and entirely competent to perform them. The voters of the city will make no mistake in electing her to this office."

In writing to Miss Kern, in giving endorsement to her candidacy Judge Shaw stated:

"You have well deserved such a promotion, and there is no good reason why the fact that you are a woman should militate against you. There is nothing about the duties of the office that cannot be as well performed by a woman as a man and you have done the work successfully for some time. I enclose herewith an endorsement which you are at liberty to use in any way you think best. Of course, you may also use this letter if you wish.

"Wishing you success, I am,
"Yours very truly,
"HARTLEY SHAW,
"Judge of the Superior Court."

LONE BANDIT ROBS MAN IN GLENDALE

Morris Singer Reports $283 Taken In Bold Daylight Holdup On Road

A lone bandit driving a new automobile held up and robbed Morris Singer, 422 North Fremont avenue, Los Angeles at San Fernando road and Broadway at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, according to a report made by Singer to the police. Approximately $283 was stolen, Singer told Detective Sergeants Williams and Lauritzen, who investigated.

Singer, an employe of the Independent Pottery Co., 524 North Figueroa street, Los Angeles, was driving along San Fernando road when the bandit car drove up beside him, forced him to the curb and an unmasked man pointed a gun at him and demanded his valuables, he said.

The victim failed to get the license number of the bandit machine. He described the robber as about 35 years old, weighing 190 pounds. Police conducted a lengthy search, but failed to find any trace of the bandit.

SOLONS FACED WITH FULL SCHEDULE

Senate Jammed With Bills Yet Untouched; Only Three Weeks Left

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service.
Special to the Evening News.

SACRAMENTO, April 7.—With but three weeks of the three months' session of the forty-sixth California Legislature remaining, what has been done so far sinks into insignificance as compared to what should be done.

Ratification of the child labor amendment, ratification of the six-state Colorado river compact with protective reservations, passage of self-governing bar association measures, enabling acts for municipal courts and an investigation of the Teachers' Retirement Salary fund might be listed as the most important accomplishments to date.

Nothing as yet has come from the various proposals to better administer the state school system, although that subject also is an open argument.

The Senate yet has to vote on the $20,000,000 Veteran Welfare board's bond issue. The Assembly has yet to consider the $8,500,000 bond issue for university and state buildings.

Water District Bill

Southern California's metropolitan water district bill is still in committee, as is constitutional reapportionment, although one reapportionment measure in the form of a constitutional amendment has reached the floor of the assembly.

Perhaps the most creditable thing done—and it was done by the administration long before the legislature met—was the prompt financial action in the cattle epizootic. It remained only for the solons to approve the claims made on the state department of agriculture, which they did. Likewise, they okehed the governor's budget.

Conditions this year are reversed. Speaker Frank F. Merriam, with the aid of effective committee chairmen, has made a remarkable record in clearing up legislation. But the senate is in a jam which will keep the session going until April 24, it is believed.

Governor's Veto

Governor Friend W. Richardson has been vetoing bills with glee, Senator Pat Gray of San Francisco losing six measures for lack of signature. But all has not been favorable to the Governor, his former henchman, Senator Chester Kline of San Jacinto criticised the power vested in the administration for the disposal of "frozen funds" of self-supporting departments. And Assemblyman Albert Rosenshine declared there was nothing constructive in the governor's message.

LOS ANGELES

By Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, April 7.—The state supreme court convened in Los Angeles yesterday for a three day session, during which several important civil and criminal cases will come before it for consideration. Among the cases to be heard are the suit brought to determine the right of the city of Los Angeles to remove the tracks of the Los Angeles Rock and Gravel Co. from the Arroyo Seco, and the appeal of Harry Garbutt, convicted of the murder of Mrs. Dorothy Lee Hunn of Pasadena.

The county treasurer handled a total of $121,000,000 in the last fiscal year, according to the annual report issued today, or an increase of $23,000,000 over the previous year.

The Los Angeles playground commission has acquired another mountain camp site, making four now in operation according to Secretary Charles S. Lamb. The commission's latest acquisition is known as Oak Flats, and is located about 55 miles out along the Ridge route.

A volley of pistol shots broke the quiet of Sunday morning far back in the Elysian park hills yesterday and sounded a warning to bank bandits that the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings bank was preparing for war. More than 100 officers, guards, branch members and other employes of the bank went to the police shooting range to practice on the bull's eye. Regular firing practice will be held on future Sundays at the range.

Fraud Order Issued Against Vets' League

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The postoffice department has issued a fraud order against the National Disabled Soldiers' league. The order restrains the league from using mails in an alleged scheme to defraud war veterans through sale of pencils. The league's activities were subject of a special Congressional investigation. John T. Nolan is commander.

CHEESE EXPORTS

CHICAGO, April 7.—Cheese exports for March totaled 1,846,000 pounds, as compared with 350,472 pounds in March, 1924. Egg exports were 1,904,000 dozen as compared with 2,771,921, butter 488,238 pounds against 396,000, and oleomargarine 75,600 pounds against 123,000.

URGES SUPPORT FOR J. M. RHOADES

Dr. Albert Vack Tells Why He Endorses Former C. C. Secretary

Editor The Evening News:—Permit me to express my opinion through your paper, why J. M. Rhoades, who is running for council of Glendale, should be elected. Mr. Rhoades has demonstrated during his three years as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Glendale his business ability in handling public affairs, the greatest portion of credit is due him for his untiring efforts to make Glendale a metropole of which we should be all proud.

He has had the experience in municipal affairs, having served as mayor of Missoula, Mont., 1912 to 1914 and the people of Missoula have a warm spot in their heart for Jim Rhoades. Mr. Rhoades is not owned or controlled by any individual, company or corporation, and will at all times serve the best interest of the whole community, a fearless fighter for right, a man who can, and will represent his constituency under all circumstances.

He is honest and always will deal honestly either in public or private. The letters placed by him before the citizens of Glendale dealing with his past life and service to humanity are conclusive proof of his high integrity. I have known J. M. Rhoades since I located in Glendale, and marvelled at his untiring spirit to serve. He is a man with a vision, at all times filled with inspiration to make this world a better place to live in. The Golden Rule is his motto, do unto others as Jim wants others to do unto Jim.

Jim Rhoades is the highest type of human I had the pleasure to meet, a man whose head will not swell, through position or office he ever hold's, always able, and glad to meet everybody on their own ground, giving his time to the rich and poor alike, not making any distinction, never swerved by the glitter of gold, or the delusion of society, he would be willing to give his life for the thing that is right.

The people can only get out of the administration what they want. If Glendale has learned its lesson well, through past experiences, they will want some better, nay the best, and will show their appreciation for J. M. Rhoades' past services, by choosing wisely and give their wholehearted support on April 14 to one of the great human characters, voting for J. M. Rhoades as one of our councilmen, to guide us to still greater prosperity.

BAND TOUR PLANNED

LONG BEACH, April 7.—As part of a drive to bring hundreds of tourists to this city this summer, the directors of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce will ask that the city council authorize the sending of the municipal band on a tour through the inland cities.

RAPS JAZZ MUSIC

VAN NUYS, April 7.—As a slap at all jazz music, saxophone playing and the modern tendency toward ragtime pace, the Van Nuys high school authorities have asked for some sober music study within the institution. As a result all the students now will turn their hands literally toward trying to play the pipe organ. Miss Ruth Snow, the school's piano teacher, has called for volunteers and there has been a liberal response.

PLAN FOREST CAMPS

SANTA BARBARA, April 7.—Seventeen public camps will be constructed within the Santa Barbara national forest in Monterey county by chambers of commerce, Rotary clubs and the county government, Forest Supervisor Chester E. Jordan has announced.

RAILS TO TAP VALLEY

SANTA MARIA, April 7.—A working agreement has been reached by the Southern Pacific railroad and the Santa Maria valley railroad whereby both companies will combine their efforts to develop the agricultural territory in the northern part of the county. Reports that the Southern Pacific company plans to buy the Santa Maria railroad have been current in the valley but have not been confirmed.

CHILDREN ENDANGERED

SANTA ANA, April 7.—Two small girls were slightly burned and the lives of 500 children and an audience of 1550 other persons was placed in jeopardy at the Santa Ana high school auditorium when paper dresses worn by four girls caught fire as approximately 60 children were grouped on the stage for the presentation of a school pageant. A threatening panic was averted by the coolness displayed by Mrs. Frances Beeson, director of music in the graded schools, and several high school boys acting as stage hands who quickly beat out the flames. Tinkering of wires in the spot light operator's room is believed to have been the cause of a short circuit which caused the main fuses for the building to burn out and threw the house in darkness, adding much to the confusion.

About Cleaning and Dycing Prices

STRANGE as it may seem the present schedule of prices for cleaning, dyeing and pressing garments have been the same during the past 12 years, notwithstanding the fact that costs have been continually increasing. While the volume of work done is greater, the increased business does not begin to make up for the greater overhead. It naturally follows that if the men engaged in this business are to remain in business a greater revenue must be realized upon the money invested. Labor, rent, naphtha, chemicals, materials, telephones, delivery, light, power and gas are the principal items which have multiplied our costs. Hence it is we announce effective today the following price schedule---

OPEN COAST LOOP IN FOUR CITIES

Fans Flock To Ball Parks As 1925 Season Makes Bow To Public

LOS ANGELES, April 7.—Baseball, king of American sports, came back to Los Angeles today for his 1925 engagement when the Portland and Los Angeles clubs tangled in the opening game here of the Pacific coast league. The day dawned warm and clear and a crowd of more than 12,000 persons were expected to greet the teams at Washington park.

Mayor George Cryer will hurl the first ball to Sheriff William I. Traeger. Probable batteries:

Portland—Winters or Hasty and Crosby.

Los Angeles—Payne or Crandall, and Sandberg.

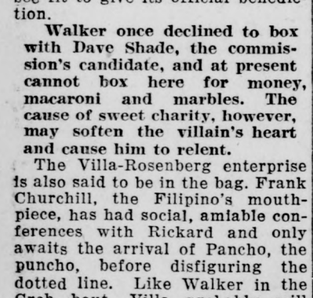
Champions To Meet Seals In Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—With fair skies promised over the circuit the 1925 season of the Pacific Coast Baseball league was scheduled to open today.

Seattle, 1924 champions, will play in San Francisco; Oakland will meet Sacramento in the California capital; Portland will play in Los Angeles and Vernon will oppose Salt Lake City in the Utah city. Each of the eight clubs of the league has added new players and a hard-fought race for the pennant is predicted.

Interest in the game here bringing together the pennant holders and the strong San Francisco club was great and one of the largest opening-day crowds on record was promised.

"Red" Killefer, Seattle manager, said early today he planned to use John Miljus or Sutherland on the mound, while Manager Bert Ellison announced "Doug" McWeeny, fast ball expert, as the Seals' pitcher. Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco will pitch the first ball in the Seattle-San Francisco contest.



By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Three world's champions of the manly art of legalized assault will risk their titles in local rings within a matter of three months, according to the rapidly maturing plans of Mr. T. Rickard, the well known promoter and others.

Listed in the order of their importance, the trio of proposed enterprises follow:

Mickey Walker vs. Harry Greb, for the middleweight title. Kid Kaplan vs. Mascart for the featherweight title. Pancho vs. Charley Rosenberg at the Yankee stadium in July for bantamweight title.

In all, five world's champions and a European titleholder will be involved in the proceedings indicating rather clearly that New York is about to emerge from the fistic doldrums. Johnny Dundee is still a possibility with Kaplan. Our Mr. Rickard favors John over Mascart, European champion, but doesn't care for his terms, which seem to be louder and funnier.

The Greb-Walker proposition is outside Rickard's province altogether. It has been conceived and made definite by a local hospital charity and will cause great loss of life at the turnstiles, provided the local commission may see fit to give its official benediction.

Walker once declined to box with Dave Shade, the commission's candidate, and at present cannot box here for money, macaroni and marbles. The cause of sweet charity, however, may soften the villain's heart and cause him to relent.

The Villa-Rosenberg enterprise is also said to be in the bag. Frank Churchill, the Filipino's mouthpiece, has had social, amiable conferences with Rickard and only awaits the arrival of Pancho, the puncho, before disfiguring the dotted line. Like Walker in the Greb bout, Villa probably will have to stake Rosenberg to as much as five pounds in the way of weight handicap.

Ty Cobb Still Going Strong

"Georgia peach" enters his twenty-first year of baseball and will look for some more records to smash this season, since he has shattered all there are in the book to date by hitting, running and base-stealing.

BATTER UP!

TY COBB
HE HOLDS THE RECORD FOR STOLEN BASES--843

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Written for The Evening News

While another new crop of "Second Ty Cobbs" is being nursed tenderly under the warm sun of the southern training camps of the big leagues, the original Tyrus Raymond is hobbling about, preparing for his twenty-first year in the game and the opportunity to come a bit closer to the only real record left for him to shoot at in baseball.

And, oh, how every mother's son in baseball would like to be able to hobble at the pace Cobb sets these days—after two decades in the game.

Practically all the honors that can come to a ballplayer have been won by the Tiger outfielder and manager. Fame holds little more for him. That he continues on and on indicates the real basic reasons that he has become the super-man he is. Those reasons are his inherent love for the game and his desire to excel and keep on excelling.

There is but one major record for Cobb to add to his laurels. If he eclipses that mark, hung up by Ty's only rival as a batter, Honus Wagner, he will stand alone in the annals of the game for longevity of service and master of the arts during that service.

Hans Wagner, before he laid aside his Pittsburgh uniform, had played in 2785 major league games. Cobb has played in 2604. He has 181 games to go to tie and 182 to go to pass the record of old Honus the Great.

Answers Retirement Query

This means that Cobb must carry on for the coming year and part of another. This is what Cobb intends to do. This, also, is the answer to queries as to whether Cobb will step aside this year, put Heinie Manush or someone else in center field permanently and guide the destinies of the Tigers from the bench.

Cobb will retire when that string of 2786 games has been played out. Not before—unless unexpected circumstances force him from the field. With this new record safe in his baseball closet Cobb can well afford to retire—supreme in every angle of the game.

Only One "Second Cobb"

Weighed as a ball player Cobb has stood alone for many years. For almost a baseball generation scouts, managers and enthusiastic fans have been digging up "Second Ty Cobbs."

There has been but one man dug up in those years who came close to being one—came close to challenging Cobb's right to the title of "Baseball's Super-man." That player was George Sisler.

And the injury to his eyes, suffered a winter ago, has checked his career and bids fair to hamper it so that he will never be able to challenge Ty's honors—at least those which relate to service.

Ty's records to date not only stamp him as a ball player superb but make of him a lesson of courage, diligence and fortitude for the younger generations.

Through 20 years Cobb has held to one course—a course that alone enabled him to become the star he is.

He guarded his health in winters of ease.

He put aside pleasures and dissipations which call doubly loud to the well-trained athlete.

He resisted the pleadings of ease which fame brought to him.

He weighed the influence of well-meaning friends with rare judgment.

He took the fickleness of the crowd as it came.

He carried on his campaign as he saw it regardless of criticism, catcalls and jeers.

He thrived on "riding."

He set his course and held to it.

And here are some of the records he has hung up to date in steering to that course.

Batting Percentage

He led the American league in batting 12 years.

Reigned for nine consecutive years.

Is tied with George Sisler for American league high average in batting with percentage of .420.

Has grand batting average for career of .369.

Tied Jess Burkett's National league record by batting .400 or better three different seasons.

Has batted .400 or better two consecutive years.

Has hit .300 or better 19 seasons. "Pop" Anson holds record—one year more.

Record at Bat

Holds American league record for times at bat—9,938. Hans Wagner holds National league record—10,427 times.

Holds world's record for total base hits collected with 3,666.

Holds world's record for making 200 hits a season. Made 200 or over nine years.

Holds world's record for single base hits—2,685.

Holds American league record for extra-base hits with 981. Hans Wagner's record in National league was 998.

Holds world's record for total bases on hits—5,108.

Equaled American league record by making four extra-base hits in single game, one below National league record.

Holds American league record for total number extra bases on hits, collecting 1,442 in his 20 years. This is within six extra-bases of the record set by Hans Wagner in the National league.

Holds world's record for three-base hits with 269 for his career.

Record on Bases

Holds world's record for stolen bases—843.

Holds American league record for bases stolen in a season—96.

Holds league record for leading circuit in stealing bases, having won the honor six different years.

Holds American league record for being caught attempting to steal in single season. Halted 38 times.

Run-scoring Record

Holds world's record for scoring runs in career—1,941.

Has tied Babe Ruth in American and George Burns in National league by leading league in scoring runs for five years.

VERNON—Joe Benjamin vs. Ace Hudkins, main event, ten rounds. Frankie Garcia vs. Johnny Lamar, semi-windup, six rounds. Johnny Nichols vs. Harry Ritzer, six rounds. Sailor Masterino vs. Charley Feraci, four rounds. K. O. Barrett vs. Bud Selby, four rounds.

SET TRACK DATE

EUGENE, Ore., April 7.—The Pacific Coast intercollegiate track and field meet will be held at Seattle May 29 and 30, according to word received here by Graduate Manager Benefil from Paul Davis, of Stanford, president of the Coast Intercollegiate Managers' association. The meet was to be held at Corvallis, Ore., but the Oregon Aggies were unable to get their track in condition.

Track Records Stand At Detroit Carnival

DETROIT, April 7.—Paavo Nurmi and Willie Ritola won their contests at last night's track carnival, but failed to break any records. Nurmi took the two-mile event in 9:46, a little more than forty-eight seconds slower than the world's record. Ritola was far in front at the finish of the four-mile jaunt. Joie Ray was badly beaten in the mile by Lloyd Hahn of the Boston A. A. in slow time. Willie Plant and Phil Granville, United States and Canadian walking champions, met in a two-mile affair, which the American won and set a new national record of 14:35 2-5.

Spring Grid Training Starts At Stanford

PALO ALTO, Cal., April 7.—Coach Glenn S. Warner today began a six weeks' spring training practice for the Stanford university football team. The practice is designed to rebuild the Cardinal gridiron machine, which lost heavily last year by graduation. Eighty-five men reported for practice to Coaches Warner, Thornhill and Kerr. Warner will devote most of his time to developing a line in which only two veterans of last season remain as a nucleus.

NEWARK, April 7.—Buds and prizefight arenas are bursting forth in rich profusion in and about New York these fine days.

In the matter of arenas the year 1925 will live long in the annals of the prize ring. Fabulous purses hung up for top-line fighters have convinced investors that there is big money in the boxing game and promoters seem to have no trouble in being financed.

No less than eleven stadiums seating in all 479,000 spectators will be doing business—or trying to when the outdoor season rolls around. Here they are:

Henderson's crater, 110,000; Yankee stadium, 90,000; Boyle's Thirty Acres, 90,000; Polo Grounds, 80,000; Velodrome, 20,000; Coney Island stadium, 20,000; Queensborough stadium, 17,000; Henderson's Bowl, 15,000; Dexter Park, 15,000; Jamaica Sporting club, 12,000; Patchogue Sporting club, 10,000.

Where, oh, where, do the matchmakers figure to unearth the cards to fill the mammoth arenas It takes a mighty good fight to bring out the fans in sufficient numbers to make it profitable to operate these plants and with champions being suspended and banned right and left it is difficult to see where the cards are coming from.

There is the angle of matchmakers, too. They are few and far between. There are so many alleged matchmakers, retired fighters, ex-managers and the like who are lo g on alluring promises and short on results that a wearied promoter often is apt to get an impression that Tex Rickard, Jimmy Deforest and Sim Flaherty and one or two others are about all the matchmakers that exist.

One thing is certain, unless matchmakers are dug up, who can induce the drawing cards to foregather at one arena or another there will be a lot of premature closing down of stadiums before the summer has gone.

LEWIS IS WINNER

TULSA, Okla., April 7.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former heavyweight wrestling champion, is on his way today seeking new fields to conquer. The 'strangler" won from Toots Mondt of Colorado last night in straight falls in less than an hour. After 48 minutes' wrestling, Mondt was dazed with a "flying mare." Lewis then applied three head locks in succession for the first fall.

TRAFFIC VICTIM

WEED, Cal., April 7.—Lee Girimonte, employed in the department store of the Weed Lumber Co., is in the hospital with a broken leg, following a collision with an auto driven by a woman.

TO MEET GODFREY

NEW YORK, April 7.—Bartley Madden, heavyweight, announced today he had received an offer to box George Godfrey, the negro heavyweight, at Los Angeles. Madden said he might accept the offer and go to the coast some time in May.

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

(John B. Foster is back at his base after completing his tour of all the major league training camps. The trip he has made is without precedent. He is the only writer who has seen all the 1925 teams in action. Therefore, those who follow his dispatches from day to day may rest assured that Mr. Foster has the proper background to picture the various teams as they shape up for the race which is soon to start.)

NEW YORK, April 7.—Probably the severest individual task in the major leagues in 1925 will fall upon the manly shoulders of Rube Bressler, of the Cincinnati Reds. His is certainly the hardest task in the National league.

Bressler's ability to become a first baseman, a high class player at that bag, or his failure to do so may turn the tide of the race either one way or the other for the Reds. There has been a general tendency to underestimate the playing ability of the Cincinnati team. There has not been enough credit given to the real baseball material that is in the make-up of the club.

Without a first baseman to make the infield complete there will be a general air of uncertainty from the start, because all of the players think they have a chance to win the pennant or to finish well up in the first division. If they are balked of the opportunity to run in the first division because of weakness at first base, it will discourage their efforts from the start.

There is no feeling against Bressler on the team, on the contrary, it is all the other way. Bressler is one of the most popular players on the club but some of the players are worried for fear that his strength will not hold him up.

Bressler is a player who finds it not easy to go through all the games of a season. The hot weather gets him at Cincinnati, and often he has to take a breathing spell.

A position so important as that at first base must be well filled all the time and if Bressler should be unable to play through the season at top speed, it would knock the plans of the Reds galley-west and it would result in a feeling by the players that they had not had a fair chance.

Some members of the Cincinnati club, both veterans and young fellows, are crazy enough—if that is the way to look at it—to think they can win the championship. They made no bones in stating so openly at Orlando but they think that the club has made a mistake in not engaging a regular first baseman instead of trying to get on with an outfielder who has played the position but who never has played it regularly.

They concede that Bressler has had a satisfactory trial as a substitute first baseman but they think that Cincinnati needs something better this year than a sub. That is the opinion also of managers outside of Cincinnati. At least half of the men in the National league believe that Hendricks is taking a long chance in going into the race this year without a tried first baseman, and they base their opinion on the fact that the Reds have an infield which will take a lot of beating with a man playing first the quality of Grim or Bottomley.

It is their opinion that Bressler who does better in the outfield than at first base and with a high class first baseman they are confident Cincinnati would finish in the first division and possibly might have a chance to win the pennant.

This expression of opinion has found its way into the Cincinnati club until even Bressler has got wind of it and the player has been handicapped by realizing that perhaps he should be continued as outfielder though the manager of the team places him at first base.

This discussion has made it a mighty hard task for this Cincinnati outfielder who will have to keep up a batting average of over .300 as well as play first for a trio of fast men like Pinelli, Caveney and Critz. All three of them are going better now than they have for Cincinnati in any race.

Buffalo Bowler Leads At Annual Tourney

BUFFALO, April 7.—Clarence Long of Buffalo stands forth today as the premier bowler of the 1925 American Bowling Congress tourney. Long, a member of the Weisser Blue Ribbons, which captured the five-man championship with a total of 3023 pins, went on from that point to win the all-events prize with a score of 1977.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF THE FILING OF THE ASSESSMENT FOR THE LAYING OUT OF, OPENING AND EXTENDING OF MARYLAND AVENUE IN THE CITY OF GLENDALE, TOGETHER WITH THE DIAGRAM OF THE DISTRICT TO BE ASSESSED FOR SAID IMPROVEMENT.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Street Superintendent of the City of Glendale has filed with the Clerk of the Council of the City of Glendale the assessment for the laying out, opening and extending of Maryland Avenue from the northerly line of Tract No. 93, as per map recorded in Book 14, Pages 22 and 23 of Maps, Records of Los Angeles County, California, to a point approximately two hundred twenty-two (222) feet northerly of the northerly line of said Tract No. 93, all in the City of Glendale, in the manner contemplated by Ordinance of Intention No. 553, together with the diagram of the district to be assesssed therefor.

The date of the first publication of this notice is the 30th day of March, 1925. All persons interested are hereby required to file, in writing, their objections, if any they have, to the confirmation of said assessment by the Council of the City of Glendale, with the said Clerk of the Council, within thirty (30) days after the said date of the first publication of this notice.

A. J. VAN WIE,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale, and Clerk of the Council of the City of Glendale.
March 30-31. April 1-2-3-4-6-7-8-9, 1925.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF THE FILING OF THE NEW ASSESSMENT FOR THE OPENING AND LAYING OUT OF BELMONT STREET IN THE CITY OF GLENDALE, TOGETHER WITH THE DIAGRAM OF THE DISTRICT TO BE ASSESSED FOR SAID IMPROVEMENT.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY given that the Street Superintendent of the City of Glendale has filed with the Clerk of the Council of the City of Glendale the new assessment for the opening and laying out of Belmont Street from a line four hundred and sixty-five (465) feet southerly from and parallel to the southerly line of Lomita Avenue to the northerly line of Maple Street, in the manner contemplated by Ordinance of Intention No. 560, together with the diagram of the district to be assessed therefor.

The date of the first publication of this notice is the 4th day of April, 1925. All persons interested are hereby required to file, in writing, their objections, if any they have, to the confirmation of said new assessment by the Council of the City of Glendale with the said Clerk of the Council within thirty (30) days after the said date of the first publication of this notice.

prinicpal property owner on Davis avenue, for which a petition to pave with three-inch macadam was referred to them by the council for reconsideration a week ago. Today the petition was referred to the city engineer and city attorney.

The protestants were supported by Councilmen S. A. Davis and C. E. Kimlin, who declared that an injustice would be worked on subdividers if three-inch macadam was banned in Glendale.

License Is Revoked

License of the Bendall police patrol which formerly operated on South San Fernando road was revoked by the council today. The patrol ceased work in that district several weeks ago and the license fee was delinquent on April 1, the council was told. C. C. Wier was granted a license to operate a patrol east of Glendale avenue and Coorado street to the Eagle Rock city limits.

The city engineer was instructed to prepare specifications for the paving and improvement of Sonora avenue between San Fernando road and Pacific avenue. A petition to change the name of Watson court to Range View drive was referred by the council to the City Planning commission.

An ordinance providing for one-hour parking on Wilson avenue between Brand boulevard and Louise street was passed at its first reading today.

Long Beach Youth Up On Bad Check Charge

Louis Walton, alias Paul Howard, Long Beach youth recently arrested here through the efforts of the Glendale Merchants' association co-operating with the police, was to be arraigned this afternoon before Police Judge F. H. Lowe on a charge of issuing fictitious checks.

Walton, held in jail here since his arrest, is alleged to have passed fictitious checks at five local business houses. License plates used on his automobile are also claimed by the police to have been stolen from a Long Beach car and used to hide his identity.

Checks issued here on a Long Beach bank totaled $96. He is also alleged to have passed fictitious checks on Long Beach, Los Angeles and Hollywood business men.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE NO. 3547

WHEREAS, by a Deed of Trust, dated July 11, 1922, recorded July 12, 1922, in Book 1242, page 180 of official Records of Los Angeles County, California, to which record reference is hereby made, Edward M. Anderson and Helen C. Anderson, his wife, did grant and convey the property therein and hereinafter described to the TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPANY, as trustee, to secure, among other things, the payment of one certain promissory note, in favor of Anton W. Wilson, and other sums of money advanced and interest thereon.

WHEREAS, there was a default in the payment of the principal and interest due and payable on said note, amounting to the sum of $1185.08, and by reason of such default said Anton W. Wilson, the owner and holder of said note and trust deed, in accordance with the provisions thereof, on to-wit; July 11, 1924, exercised his option and declared the full amount of the indebtedness secured by said trust deed immediately due and payable, there being the total sum of $6395.50 now due and unpaid, and

WHEREAS, in accordance with the provisions of Section 2924 of the Civil Code of California, said Anton W. Wilson, the owner and holder of said note and trust deed, on July 12, 1924, caused to be recorded in the office of the County Recorder of said Los Angeles County a notice of such default in the payment of principal and interest, and of his election to cause the property described in said trust deed to be sold, in accordance with the provisions thereof, to satisfy said obligation, which notice of default and election to sell was duly recorded in Book 4086, page 304, Official Records of said Los Angeles County, and

WHEREAS, said Trust Deed provides that, if there is default in the payment of any of the sums secured thereby upon application of the holder of said note, the trustee shall give notice and sell so much of the property as shall be necessary to satisfy the indebtedness secured thereby.

WHEREAS, said Anton W. Wilson, by reason of the default in payments as stated, has requested the TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPANY to give notice and to sell said property, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to sell, to pay all the indebtedness secured and expenses incurred necessary to the execution of said trust.

NOW, THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that the TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPANY by virtue of the authority vested in it as trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash in gold coin, on the 22d day of November, 1924, at the hour of 11 o'clock A. M. of said day, at the western front entrance of the Court House in the City of and County of Los Angeles, State of California, all the interest conveyed to it by said Trust Deed, in and to all the following described property, to-wit:

MILLINERY STORE HAS NOVEL SALE

After-Easter Prices Placed On Spring Hats at Nadine's

World events have been foretold and prophesies concerning many things have been made, but to do something before it actually happens, in point of time at least, is indeed an unusual thing, said Harry Inman of the United States Millinery Co., this morning.

"What I am getting at," he said "is that our store, the Nadine Millinery, 108 South Brand boulevard, is staging an after-Easter sale of fine millinery now before Easter really comes.

"Our policy is not only to sell millinery but service as well and when an opportunity presents itself for us to do something unusual for the women of Glendale and vicinity we are not slow to take advantage of it.

"For this reason we are announcing our present reduced prices on our high grade stock of the season's latest spring hats, and right when we hope women will most appreciate it. The display columns of this issue carry a complete announcement about the sale."

Alex Mitchell Urges Muhleman's Election

Editor The Evening News—
One week from today the citizens of Glendale will have the opportunity of naming the men who will manage their city business for the ensuing four years.

The ballot is the weapon by which they may right every wrong and when they lack intelligence and patriotism to right their grievances at the ballot box they may find themselves unable to right them in any other way. There are many candidates to choose from, but I doubt if any one of them possesses the two essential qualifications, ability and honesty, to a greater degree than my friend Frank L. Muhleman. You will make no mistake by voting for Frank.

Burglars Attempt To Rob Candy Company

An attempt was made last night by burglars to enter the Glendale Wholesale Candy Co. warehouse at 1111 South Brand boulevard, officials of that company reported to the police today. The screen door had been cut open, but an attempt to open the inner door failed, according to the report.

Survey of Glendale's Fire Hazards Starts

Investigation of fire prevention facilities and fire hazards in Glendale was started today by engineers of the National Board of Fire Underwriters of America, when Herbert Raines, field representative of the organization, began a survey of fire-fighting facilities with the co-operation of Fire Chief A. H. Lankford.

Raines arrived in Glendale from San Francisco yesterday afternoon. He was joined today by Robert E. Andrews, who began a survey of water storage and distribution. Other field engineers today began an investigation of fire hazards in the down-town district, and during the course of their operations here will inspect stores, basements, architectural designs, structures and all other elements entering into fire hazards.

The national board undertook the survey here at the invitation of the City Council with the endorsement of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and the Lions' club.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, April 7.—After advancing to higher price levels today, stocks were in a position for profit taking and short selling, particularly in view of the holiday character of the week and the fact that Thursday will be its last full session. Movements of prices today confirmed the general impression that the market is a traders' affair, with professional activity the most important feature and public participation on a comparatively small scale.

Oil stocks led a brisk forward movement in the early trading, in continuation of the rally which has been in progress since last Friday. The gains acquired in leading oil shares in the last few days has been sufficient to cancel about one-third of the decline in the oil shares since the first week in February.

The motor stocks were ont as aggressive as in the last few sessions and were quick to retreat as soon as selling pressure became pronounced. The unwillingness of traders to follow prices above current levels was taken as the cue for professional selling of stocks, particularly those which have been advancing the most briskly since the upturn started last week.

Northwestern railroad stocks were the first to feel the pressure of speculative selling, Chicago & Northwestern dropping to a new low at 49⅝, down 4½ points for the day, as rumors concerning the permanence of a $4 dividend spread through the financial district. Northern Pacific and Great Northern preferred dropped about 2 points each, after which selling of the rails became quite general.

The motor and specialty stocks led the market in a moderate rally in the last hour. Studebaker was an active leader in the motor stocks, advancing on good buying to 45¾, the highest price for the current movement and only one point below the high for the year.

Maxwell "A" topped its best previous price at 95, and General Motors sold above 72. Oil stocks regained some of the ground lost in the early trading.

United States Realty and United Drug led the specialty stocks, the former advancing 7 points, to 130¾, and the latter up 4 points, to 121½. Cluett-Peabody was another strong spot in the specialty group. Brooklyn Union Gas, North American and other utility stocks participated in the closing rally.

Specialty stocks and the industrial market leaders were the next to give ground. Savage Arms declined 4½ points, to 66; Baldwin yielded 2½ points, and sold down to 112½; Mack Trucks got back from 141½ to 138, and General Electric lost 4 points. Oil stocks lost a point or more from the high levels of the first hour, and motor stocks were also unable to hold their gains. The decline was orderly and the volume of sales in this period was comparatively small.

Similar movements took place in the grain and cotton markets, the selling representing a desire of traders to convert paper profits into cash. Wheat lost a good part of its early advances in this process, and so did cotton, in which market trading was reduced because of the closing of the New Orleans exchange for the day. Call money ruled at 4 per cent.

Stock sales today, 1,232,000 shares; bonds $11,701,000.

BUSINESS MAN STRANGELY MISSING

Hollis Himes, Pioneer Drive Resident, Disappears Following Threat

Fear that Hollis T. Himes, 35, of 718 West Pioneer drive, may have met with foul play as the result of his activities several months ago in sending the leader of a gang of motor thieves to state prison, was expressed by police today after they had failed to find trace of the man missing since 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

Threats had been received by Himes by telephone and through the mail. The last one was a letter at his place of business, 110 North Los Angeles street, Los Angeles, mailed at the Arcade station. It read:

"Himes: We are going to get you. You sent Jones over the road and we know it. It has taken us some time but we have located you. We will get you good." The note, crudely printed, was signed "K. K. K."

L. L. Jones was said by police at the time of his arrest and conviction on a charge of theft of an automobile to be the leader of a band of auto thieves. Himes furnished the bulk of the testimony that sent him to San Quentin.

The local man left his home early yesterday morning to drive to Los Angeles in a Chevrolet sedanette. He was last seen as he turned a corner a short distance from his home and headed toward Los Angeles. When he failed to arrive at work his business associates called his home and then notified the Los Angeles police. Detective Lieutenants Jones and Edwards were assigned to the case.

The missing man was described as 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighing about 150 pounds. He has sandy complexion, light brown hair and gray eyes. There is a small scar on his forehead above the nose. Glendale police are co-operating with the Los Angeles department in the search for Himes or his assailants.

American Envoy Sails To Speed Up War Debt

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Further indication that the government is planning immediate steps to collect some of the outstanding $7,000,000,000 foreign debt was seen in the treasury department announcement that Under-Secretary Winston, new secretary of the debt funding commission, will sail Friday for London and Paris.

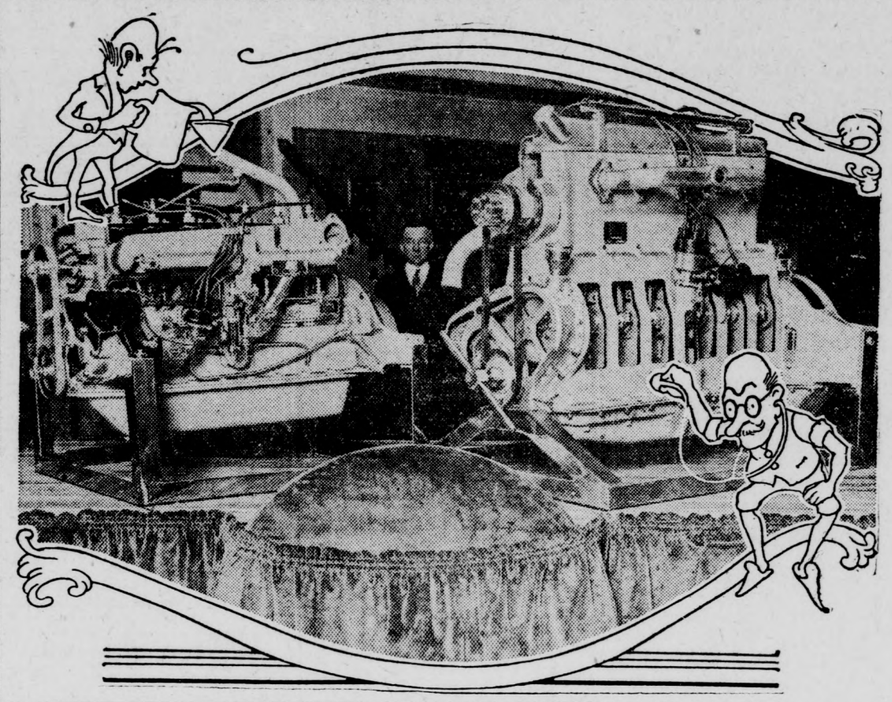
In some quarters, Winston's trip was described "as an American debt envoy going abroad to survey the situation" with a view to early collection.

Germany Disappointed By Von Hindenburg Act

BERLIN, April 7.—Marshal Von Hindenburg's refusal to run for president as the nationalist candidate comes as a blow to the nationalist bloc, whose newspapers today barely concealed their bitter disappointment.

Watching Wheels Go Round

F. W. LAWTON, noted authority on sleeve-valve motors, is almost overshadowed by the giant automobile engines he will use in his demonstrations and address tonight at the Murray Motors, Inc., 905 South Brand boulevard, when he will explain fully the possibilities of the Willys-Knight engine.



CONSERVE HEALTH OF CITY, IS PLEA

Dr. Paul Traxler, Candidate For Councilman, Tells Need of Unity

Editor The Evening News—When a physician is imbued with the ideal of conserving the health of the whole community, when he realizes to the fullest extent the unity of the physical, mental and spiritual aspects of life and his obligation to emphasize this unity, it is inevitable that he must sooner or later become seriously interested in the policy that underlies the conduct of community business and the methods used in carrying on and administering the community affairs.

Most people refer to this activity as "politics" and insist that it is too dirty a mess for any decent man to dabble in, much less a physician. That is just the reason why I believe every physician should get into it with all his energy.

For years we have allowed the spirit of partisanship to control the management of our community business. So putrid has city management become in too many of our communities that not only is the material wealth of the community exploited for the benefit of party or special interests, but the moral and physical welfare of the people is exploited as well.

Excessive Taxes

Community management of this sort not only tends to warp the moral judgment of the whole community, but through extravagant, wasteful and criminal manipulation of the public finances it lays upon the people tax burdens of ever-increasing weight.

Many things which we want and need in our community life we are learning we can get easier and better by doing them together rather than through individual effort.

It is inevitable, therefore, that the cost of government, the cost of doing the many things which we know we can do better together, is steadily increasing. To this increasing cost of necessary and constructive government add the costs of inefficiency, extravagance, waste and graft, incident to the political management of public business, and the overhead of government becomes a burden that chafes to the bone. The unfortunate thing is that too many of our people do not know how to lighten the burden.

Most cities and most citizens can pay and are willing to pay taxes for which they receive full value in community service. It is the taxes that leak away through inefficiency and political exploitation that constitutes the straw that breaks the camel's back.

Is there any obligation laid upon the physician to help reduce this excess taxation? Let us see? Thousands of people are underfed, underclothed, improperly warmed in winter and receive insufficient care during illness because of both indirect and direct excess taxation. These people may pay half their grocery bills, half their tailor bills; many of them forget their doctors altogether, but they cannot forget or jump their tax bill; that is collected whether or no.

Use Influence

If for no other reasons therefore than to maintain his economic stability in the community the physician should use his every influence to eliminate these excess taxations by insisting upon greater efficiency in the management of the community business and by eliminating political exploitation.

But there is a greater moral obligation laid upon him because excess taxation lays its greatest burden on the health of the community.

People must pay their taxes; they may neglect the health of their children—they must pay the indirect taxation that comes through high rents and other high costs of living; they may neglect their own physical comfort and health.

If, therefore, the physician desires to fulfill his entire obligation to the community, it is quite inevitable that he should play his part in the social and political life of the community to the end that through his breadth of vision and experience he may influence the community to work together to eliminate inefficiency and political exploitation from the management of public business and replace them with a high quality of public service and community honesty.

DR. PAUL S. TRAXLER.

Federal Counsel Warns Against Packing Trust

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Unless the Armour-Morris meat packing combine is dissolved, two giant trusts will eventually control the packing industry, Walter L. Fisher, former secretary of the interior, and associate government counsel, declared in final hearings on the federal suit to force the dissolution before Secretary of agriculture Jardine. Conclusion of the case was promised by next Thursday.

Capitol Warns Mexico Ranch Yankee-Owned

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The United States has advised Mexico that the Evans ranch in Pueblo, Mexico, is American-owned, being the property of Mrs. Petus, the state department announced today. Mrs. Petus is the sister of Mrs. Rosalie Evans, an American who married a British subject, and whose murder by Mexicans aroused a bitter controversy between Great Britain and Mexico.

Motorists who have experienced all kinds of trouble with the engines in their cars, and persons who are curious to know what makes the wheels go around, will find much food for thought in the address and demonstration to be given tonight in the showroom of the Murray Motors., Inc., at 905 South Brand boulevard, by F. W. Lawton, noted authority on automobile motors.

Mr. Lawton will explain the various details and mechanical devices connected with the sleeve-valve motor used in Willys-Knight cars, which are distributed in Glendale by the Murray Motors, Inc. He will have large models, bisected so that every working part is plainly visible, and as he describes the various functions of the motor, he will point out the part of the motor brought into play.

In addition to being thoroughly familiar with every part of the Willys-Knight sleeve-valve motor, Mr. Lawton has made an exhaustive study of other automobile motors, and will answer questions relative to the merits of each. H. H. Murray, president of the firm, has invited the public to attend the meeting, and after the demonstration and address, to enjoy free rides about Glendale in the Willys-Knight and Overland cars.
